NAYS—1.

West,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 409, as follows:

An Act to compel land owners in townships of the second class to clear the highways abutting on their land of brush and trees and imposing certain duties and liabilities on township supervisors

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every person owning land abutting on any public highway in any township of the second class shall at least once in each year not later than the first day of October cut all weeds rhus toxi codendron known as poison ivy brush and trees growing within the boundaries of such highway and along the sides thereof This provision does not apply to trees of a diameter of four inches or more at a point two feet above the surface of the ground Such persons shall also trim all trees growing along such highways or overhanging the same and shall keep them trimmed so as to allow a clearance of at least sixteen feet above the surface of the highway

When any land owner owns the property on one side of such highway only he shall not be compelled to keep the same clear beyond the center line of such highway

Section 2 If any land owner fails to comply with the provisions of section one of this act the township supervisors shall notify such person that if such work is not done within thirty days of the receipt of such notice the same will be done by the supervisors and the costs thereof collected from the land owner

If within such thirty days the land owner has not complied with the notice the supervisors shall cut such brush and trees and shall collect the cost thereof from the land owner in an action of assumpsit

Section 3 Any supervisor who neglects or refuses to comply with the provisions of section two of this act after being notified in writing so to do shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars or shall be dismissed from office at the discretion of the court

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman who is the sponsor of this bill is in the room, I wish he would explain this bill.

Mr. JOHN P. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is for the safety of every person who travels on the public highway to-day. We have many places on our highways where there is brush all along the line. In short turns you will find brush and weeds that prohibit a man from driving an automobile at the speed at which they are going at this time, and increases the liability of collision. There are places where the roads go down into the hollows and there is brush from the trees over each side of the road, from the trees that span the road, which makes the roads wet all the time, with mud holes, thereby increasing the chances for collision. I know of one place in our county, at the foot of two hills, where the roads come down steep, where there have been two collisions, where the road was so covered with brush in front of them that they could not see and had a collision, two automobiles running together. I think this is a very favorable bill and would like to have your support in its passage.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, to those who live in the foothills of the Allegheny this bill will work a mighty hardship. If the gentleman had written the bill so that it would apply to cleared land it would be all right, but those of us who live, as I said, in the foothills of the Allegheny, have many miles of road running over the mountains, miles of road running around the bottom of a hill, roads galore that are flanked on each side by timber. According to the provisions of this bill it would be necessary for the land owner to go into his forest land and chop the trees down on each side of the road. It would be necessary for him in these hollow sections to trim away all the brush on land that is absolutely worthless to him excepting that it is a part of his agricultural land. It would impose a hardship at this particular time when it is impossible for the land owner to get labor to clear the road. While I believe that the road should be cleared, and while I am favorable to a bill of this kind if it applies to agricultural land, I sincerely hope that the members of this House will not impose a hardship of this kind upon the land owners, upon the farmers, upon the tillers of the soil who live in the foothills of the mountains, at this time when we are pleading for every farmer to do everything in his power to make his land produce more. If you were to pass a bill of this kind that would take a month, at least a month, to clear the roads. That seems to me to be mighty unwise, and I trust the members of this House will not vote for a bill of this character at this time. Let the gentleman amend the bill so as to apply to tilled land, to cleared land road, and I wil favor it, but as long as the bill applies to mountain land and to barren land and applies to land of no value in any way so far as the agricultural condition is concerned it is too drastic, and I trust that this House will not support the bill. I would ask the gentleman to recommit his bill and have it amended so as to apply to farm land. I too try to keep the roads along my farm clean, and I too believe it is right, but I do not think it is right to impose a hardship of this kind upon the man who happens to be, according to the provisions of this bill, unfortunate enough to own forest land. It is putting a hardship on the man who has some forest land. It compels him to destroy his timber. It compels him to cut away that young timber growing into forest simply because we want the road cleared away so that we may use it for automobiles. I enjoy the automobile as much as any other man, but I do not want to destroy thousands of dollars worth of valuable growing timber in order that we may have a condition of this kind worked out.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I just want to call the attention of the House to this bill. It says: "Every person owning land abutting on any public highway in any township of the second class shall at least once in each year, not later than the first day of October, cut all weeds, rhus taxicondendron, known as poison ivy, brush and trees growing within the boundaries of such highway and along the sides thereof." Here is a provision that it contains: "This provision does not apply to trees of a diameter of four inches or more at a point two feet above the surface of the ground."

Now, the object of this bill is to keep the highways clear of brush and small twigs and trees growing in the highway. This does not prevent any trees from growing on the sides of the highway and there should be some law on the subject to allow the supervisor to clear the highways. It prevents accidents where the road is thickly grown up and also keeps the road dry and that is the secret of the dirt road, to keep it dry and not damp. I think that the provisions of this bill could be easily carried out without doing any injustice to any landowner.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the principal underlying this bill, as intended by the sponsor, is all right, but as to who is to do the work is all wrong. If I secure from you or you secure for me thirty or thirty-three feet of land passing through your farm and you sell it for a county or township road it is public property and you have parted with the title to it and I have parted with the title to it. I have no right thereafter to come to you and ask you to come over here and clear my strip of land thirty feet wide. I brought that from you, whether by gift, sale or otherwise. It is an imposition for you to sell me a piece of property and I to demand you, by legislation, to come and clear it off every year and to say to you if you don't I will impose a penalty upon you. Let the public, who owns the property, the county or township, clean up their own roads. I have enough to do to clean up my own.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Phillips.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Phillips, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PHILLIPS. With the greatest of pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I should like the gentleman from Clearfield to tell us how long it will take a chestnut tree that is four inches in diameter two feet above the ground to become a valuable stick of timber.

Mr. PHILLIPS. About 1175 years, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, we know it takes five or six years after a tree is that size until a chestnut tree is large enough to make a good fence post and anyone of the men who are acquainted with the growing chestnut knows that is true.

I should like to ask the gentleman further how long it will take a locust tree, a yellow locust, that is four inches in diameter two feet above the ground, to make a valuable fence post.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question. I will say that it does not take very long for a chestnut tree, or a chestnut sapling as we call it, or a locust tree, either, that is four inches in diameter to become of value, but they have no business in the site of the highway.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask just one more question: Is it true that when a township takes over a road the timber on the side of the road, the timber growing off the part of the land that is actually used for the road, belongs to the man through whose land the road goes.

Mr. PHILLIPS. The law provides now for thirty-two feet and sixteen feet is the regular width used.

Mr. DELL. But is it not true that the timber on that belongs to the land owned?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Yes, but it can be cut down by the supervisor under the present law.

Mr. DELL. Then let us amend the bill so that the supervisors shall bear the expense of this rather than the landowner. I claim that the landowner has really no right to dot it. In the second place if it is to be done I claim the supervisor should do it and not impose a hardship on the landowner at a time like this.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, this is a problem which should receive considerable attention at this time when the men who are engaged in agricultural pursuits are straining every nerve to-day to produce more food. It would seem to me to impose a hardship upon them to ask them also to make the roads after they have paid the road tax on their property. I do not think the farmers of Pennsylvania ought to be compelled to keep the roads clean. They are taxed any paying the tax for that purpose. It should be the duty of the supervisor to remove the brush and small timber. I am not speaking from the standpoint of the value of the timber that might be destroyed. I believe the road should be kept free from brush and that duty should be imposed upon the supervisors and not upon the property owners. As I understand it, it would work a hardship in many parts of the State if the property owners should be required under this bill to keep the roads free of brush through land not assessed at great value in many instances because in that particular locality the work would cost as much as the land is worth. Therefore, I think the bill should be defeated. It has absolutely no merit.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JOHN P. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. DEWEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 937 (Senate Bill No. 217), entitled

An Act preventing the manufacture sale or transportation within the Commonwealth of adulterated or misbranded paris greens lead arsenates lime-sulphur compounds and other insecticides and fungicides and regulating traffic therein providing for inspection of such materials and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 706, entitled

An Act to repeal a portion of the twenty-fourth clause of section one of the act of May thirty-one one thousand eight hundred and forty-four Pamphlet Laws five hundred and eighty-five entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of government repair of the canals and railroads of the State and other claims upon the Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the meaning of this act. According to its title it applies to repairs of canals and railroads, and according to the body of the act it applies to wardens of the Western Penitentiary.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, a majority of the members know that in the early days before the enactment of the Constitution of 1874 probably from fifteen to twenty or more subjects were embodied under the same head. This act is to repeal that part of the act which pertains to wardens of the Western Penitentiary. The caption of this particular bill is in short form. Under the act of 1844 the wardens of Penitentiaries were not to receive more than twelve hundred dollars per annum; the moral instructors not more than five hundred dollars per annum; the overseers not more than six hundred dollars per annum and each other moral overseer ot more than five hundred dollars per annum. This act is to repeal that portion of the act pertaining to wardens and overseers of penitentiaries.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent at this time to call up House Bill No. 1580, from page 26 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading. The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I asked unanimous consent to call up House Bill 1580 out of regular order, and I was about to explain the reasons for asking the privilege of calling it up out of order. I did not think there was any objection to calling this particular bill up out of order.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, if this procedure is not taken as a precedent for other members of the House to call up bills out of order, I will withdraw my objection to this particular bill, but I do object to members of this House caling up out of order bills for which they are sponser. I withdraw my objection to this bill with that understanding.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the consideration of the gentleman from Delaware in withdrawing his objection, and I agree with him in regard to the practice of calling up bills out of order. For this bill there is a particularly important reason why it should be called up at this time—it is allowing an appropriation to the Adjutant General to purchase uniforms and equipment for the National Guard which is very urgent, as we all know that delay of a day is of great importance and is liable to make the cost of goods higher and every body is anxious to expedite as much as possible the work of the Adjutant General.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, unanimous consent is granted to take up House Bill No. 1580 on third reading at this time. The Chair hears no objection.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1580, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to uniform and equip the enlisted men of the National Guard of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain is provisions.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, if the interrogator present here this afternoon had visited Pittsburgh, and looked over the town in a proper manner, he would have ascertained that it is one mass of hills and valleys. The transit facilities in Pittsburgh are some what congested. The City of Pittsburgh through its administration must seek remedy in this House, and in the Legislature, for the purpose of relieving the conditions existing. The city will then be empowered under this act to build surface lines and elevated lines or any other method of transportation necessary to carry the people back and forth from homes in other parts of the city. This is an enabling act, enabling the City of Pittsburgh or any other second class city to go ahead with their work.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 592, entitled

An Act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on or conduct any business under an assumed or fictitious name, style or designation unless upon the filing of a certificate to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary requiring county commissioners at the expense of the county to provide books for the entry of such certificates; fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary and providing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, might I ask the sponsor to explain this bill.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen ofthe House, this bill makes it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on business in this Commonwealth under an assumed or fictitious name without having the real names of the owners of the business recorded in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, or the prothonotary of the proper county.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether under the provisions of this act corporations will be included.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, they will not.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, on this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire if under the provisions of this act where a business has been conducted for years in the name of say an indivdiual and then that individual dies and the estate sells that business to someone else, and sells also the name of the business, whether a person purchasing, that business and conducting it under the old name comes under the provisions of this act?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, he does, it applies to every case where any individual or individuals carrying on business under an assumed or fictitious name, in other words, where they carry on a business in a name different from their own name. The purpose of this bill is to prevent fraud. It is found at times that persons carry on a business under a fictitious name and if somebody desires to sue the owner of that business, he does not know who the owners are. This simply requires, for the protection of the public, that the name of the owners be registered. This bill was prepared by the Legal Aid Society of Pittsburgh, and was presented to the Allegheny County Bar Association and recommended and approved by them.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman, and would like to ask whether the same purpose could not be obtained by eliminating from this act the necessity of charging the persons, as the sponsor sets forth in the act, the cost of filing their statements in the office of prothonotary of various counties by filing that information alone with the Auditor General or with the Secretary of the State.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, there is room for a difference in opinion on that subject. As the bill was originally prepared it provided only for the filing of this information in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The Allegheny County Bar Association thought that the practice should be the same as that of corporations, and that this information should be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the prothonotary of the local county, so that any person interested in that county would not need to go farther than the county records.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

NAYS—1.

McKinney,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 589, enttiled

An Act to amend section eight of an act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred thirty-six) entitled "An Act for the taxation of dogs and the protection of sheep."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on thrid reading?

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, this House will have a further opportunity to bark later on the dog proposition, but this bill is simply a bill to amend the act of 1893. The act of 1893 among other things makes it the duty of the township auditors to view and assess damages for sheep killed by dogs, and fixes the salary at one dollar for each case of viewing. If the township auditor lives in the country district he may be called away from his work at any season of the year to go to places where sheep are killed and assess the damages. If he were to travel by automobile the salary is not enough to pay the gasoline. The result is that they object very seriously to assessing these damages, but the law imposes that duty upon them. We have passed many salary raising bills during this session, and I think we can pass this one. The only feature of it is that it increases the salary from one dollar to two dollars and allows for mileage.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Lohr.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Lohr, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOHR. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if this same provision is not in the new act that was reported out of committee to-day, and if it could not be taken care of in that law. Would it not be better to have this bill postponed for the present?

Mr. LOHR. In answer to the question of the gentleman from Potter, I would say that the same provision is in the bill which was reported on the floor of this House to-day, but there might be danger of that bill not passing and therefore we would not have this increase in salary which I believe is necessary for the sheep industry. If both of these bills pass one of them would not be signed by the Governor.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Chestnut,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 758, entitled

An Act fixing the salary of the clerk of the county commissioners in counties having a population between one hundred thousand and one hundred and fifty thousad inhabitants.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to amend this bill at this time. I wish to say to the members of this House that there are but two counties in the State to which this bill applies. There are only two counties, York and Northampton, where the commissioners' clerk is still elected by the people. In those two counties the commissioners' clerk's salary was fixed at eight hundred dollars a year away back in the sixties, and there has been no change since, although the population of these counties has doubled in that time and salaries of the other county officials have been increased, some of them more than three times. The salary of this official remains the same, at eight hundred dollars a year, and it is entirely too small a salary considering the responsibilities and duties of this official. I therefore hope that I will receive the unanimous consent of the House to insert these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend by adding the following:
"Section 2 The provisions of this act shall only apply to such counties wherein the clerk of the county commissioners is elected by the electors of said counties.
On line 9, page 1, strike out "2" and insert "3."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?
It was agreed to.
Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 23, entitled

An Act authorizing township commissioners and township supervisors to adopt certain roads streets and highways as public roads and providing for their maintenance improvement and repair.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1346, entitled

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I should like the sponsor of this bill to explain its provisions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I should like the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Albee, to tell us whether there is any provision in the code by which one may dip in any of the waters, outside of the Susquehanna river, for the purpose of removing carp.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, this code has been prepared by the Department of Fisheries. It has been very carefully looked over by the Committee on Fish; but in answer to the gentleman I would say this, that there are certain provisions in here that provide only for the catching of fish by hook and line, and I think there is no provision in here in regard to the removal of carp, excepting that the Department of Fisheries may designate any way or any form of catching fish that are detrimental to game fish, or food fish for that matter, as they have the right under this act to designate any way of catching fish; but it would have to be a separate proposition of the Fish Commission.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, my reason in asking a question of that kind is this: I want to go along with this bill; I want to support it. Mr. Buller, the Fish Commissioner, has been very considerate to us and my friend, Mr. Albee, has drafted a bill or has sponsored the bill, but as I read it there is no way by which we may remove carp from the Juniata river or its branches at all. Anyone knows that you cannot catch carp with hook and line and our two large dams, built for the purpose of developing electric current, have become natural breeding places for the carp until we have millions of them and they are destroying the other fish. One large carp, rooting through the bottom of the river, will destroy more fish in one day, by destroying spawn, than all the fishemen in this House could catch in a week and for that reason it seems to me that there should be some means by which the people may be able to take carp from the river. I am opposed to the use of the spear or gig for the purpose of taking them, but, Mr. Speaker, when meat is soaring rapidly toward the fifty cent mark per pound, when breakfast bacon is soaring at between thirty-five and forty cents a pound, when we have a good many people who have said to me recently, "We have not tasted meat in my home for the last three months excepting the carp we have taken out of the river," it seem to me that at this time we ought not to make it impossible for the poor people, the laboring man who is unable to provide himself with meat in any other way, we ought not to make it impossible for him to get these food fish for consumption in his own home. It will simply deprive him from getting any form of flesh whatever for his home. The man working at two dollars a day cannot afford to buy meat of any kind at this time while he may go out in the evening after his day's work is done and with an ordinary seine dip from the river a sufficient amount of carp—while I don't eat them and while the majority of you gentlemen don't eat them— he may be able to go and dip a sufficient amount of carp to supply his family with a form of flesh food for the next day or two days; and for that reason it seems to me that this bill should be amended in such a way that will make it possible or will enable the poor man to dip carp out of the river and enable us who want to fish with hook and line—although I never get the time to do it myself— enable us to destroy the worst enemy the bass or the wall-eyed pike has in the Juniata river and its branches. Many of our fishermen have said to me—indeed, a number of our club said to me only last Saturday evening, "If we are not allowed to remove the carp from the river it is only a matter of a few years until there will not be a black bass, until there will not be a Susquehanna salmon or a wall-eyed pike in the Juniata river." They have done us a great deal more damage than all the fishermen combined and it seems to me it would be only fair at this time, when it is so hard to procure food, it would be only fair to permit the poor man to take out of the river that which he uses for food and, indeed, that which you and I believe to be a nuisance in the river.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Dell, will look on page 20, Article 12, Section 121 on the top of page 21, "The Commissioner of Fisheries may promulgate such rules and regulations for the angling, catching or removal of fish in or from any waters artificial or otherwise wholly within this Commonwealth as are not inconsistent with any provisions of this act or other constitutional or statutory provision." This proposition in regard to carp is taken care of in such a way that he can make application at any time to the Commissioner of Fisheries. That gives the gentleman from Huntingdon a chance to make application if the carp are destroying their bass or any other kind of game fish; it gives them a chance to make application to the Commissioner of Fisheries to catch these with any devices that they see fit to grant. I believe our Department of Fisheries are perfectly willing and want to protect all the game fish that are in the waters of the State of Pennsylvania. There will be no trouble whatever in granting any thing or any request that comes from the gentleman from Huntingdon that he may see fit to ask. I think that is fully taken care of here. If we change it we will give everybody in Pennsylvania an opportunity to fish with spears, or nets or anything else. I would like to see this bill go through exactly as it is prepared.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1254, entitled

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, in the absence of the sponser of this bill I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1290, entitled

An Act relating to the arrest character of evidence and punishment of professional thieves burglars and pickpockets.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain its provisions.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that when any man is convicted before a police magistrate, burgess or alderman of being a professional thief or pickpocket that they can sentence him to jail for a period of ninety days or require him to furnish bond for his good behavior for a year. You all know that in all county fairs, all carnivals, all places where there is a large gathering, a political convention, where there are always a number of professional thieves—heretofore they could be dealt with by preferring a technical charge of being a suspicious person and by doing that an injustice was worked in a great many cases. Under the provisions of this act a man cannot be imposed upon who has merely committed some minor offense, but it is only where he has a criminal record either in a court of record or the records that are in the Municipal Courts or Magistrate's courts could be produced against the man, and if the record proved that he was a professional thief, had no means of livelihood or employment, then we could be sentensed to jail for 90 days. I hope the House will give the bill serious consideration and vote aye.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, what change in the law does this proposed bill make?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, by the character of evidence that can be considered by the committing magistrate.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, isn't it true that a magistrate at the present time can consider the record of the supposed pickpocket?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, no, that is, they cannot go into the man's record and put his character into evidence, I mean to take the character, unless the character is put in evidence.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, there is a law on the statute books at the present time covering exactly this situation. A law covering professional thieves, and any professional thief that is arrested and brought into court, charged with being at a public place, or place of amusement, at a theatre, at a station, on the cars, or at county fairs, and there can be faced with the record of his previous convictions, it can be heard in his own defense and if he is found guilty by the magistrate he can be sentenced, under the provisions of the act of Assembly, for 90 days in the house of correction or in the county prison.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wells.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wells, permit himself to the interrogated?

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Philadelphia state the act that he is talking about?

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot state the act now, but we are working under it at the present time and have been working under it for at least ten years.

I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, isn't it true, that there is such an act as the "professional thief act?"

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I have no practice of that kind and I do not know. I have no practice of that kind Mr. Speaker, I do not know of such a bill.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, isn't it true that the gentleman from Philadelphia has represented professional thieves?

Mr. STERN. Never, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman never practice in the criminal courts?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I have and I am mighty sorry for it.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, and doesn't the gentleman know that there is such an act in force at the present time?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that there is such an act (I have heard that there is such an act, but that is only heresay evidence, and I wanted to be told by an authority on criminal law in Philadelphia, and that is why I asked the gentleman the question.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I regret very much that an act, a bill, that has for its purpose such a serious thing, should be treated with such levity by the two gentlemen from Philadelphia, but I would say to the inquiry of the gentleman of Philadelphia ——

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker ——

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I decline to be interrupted.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the gentleman is insinuating.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, no, no, but in all seriousness, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill changes a provision of the present law by allowing evidence from courts not of record to be introduced. The courts have repeatedly held that the evidence of conviction, summary conviction, before a police magistrate, could not be offered in evidence, and this bill extends the provisions so as to bring in such evidence. That is the only way in which it changes the present law.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I regret very much that the gentleman from Allegheny is under the impression that this question is being treated in a spirit of levity. It is not. I have stated previously that there is an act of Assembly in force covering the question of professional thieves and pickpockets; I do not believe the scope of the present law should be enlarged in any particular. I have seen cases in Philadelphia, where I thought the law was stretched to the utmost. They have sent men to the county prison for ninety days and I think that the law should be kept as it is at the present time. There is no necessity for introduring the records of court that are not a court of record.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, there has been so much discussion on this question, and I believe that my friend from Philadelphia is an authority on questions of this kind, and I think furthermore that his statement that there is an act of this kind in existence, ought to be looked into, I would therefore suggest to the gentlemen from Allegheny, the sponsor of the bill, that a motion be made to postpone the consideration of this bill for the present, so that that matter may be inquired into.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I do not care to make a motion of that kind, but I will not object if the motion is made.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill was agreed to on third reading be re-considered.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PRAYER.

The Rev. M. D. Lichliter offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our God, Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, maker of all things, and the bountiful giver of every good and perfect gift. We bless Thee for this new day. With it comes new duties and increased responsibilities. May each of us in our several stations of life be fitted to meet them like men.

We stand appalled in the presence of the world-wide war cloud that is darkening the nations of the earth, and in the awful loss and waste of young manhood. We believe in Thee, oh God. We believe that above the smoke of battle Thou sittest upon Thy throne, and though

> Truth is on the scaffold,
> And Error is upon the throne;
> That back of the dim Unknown
> Standeth God within the shades

Pardon us for our sins and sanctify our spirits, we ask for Jesus' sake, Amen.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following motion.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

"Amend Bill by striking out section thirty-five, page 49, 50, 51, 52, 53 and 54 to line 24 of page 55, and renumber the following sections accordingly."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, these amendments, offered at the present time, are the amendments to insert into the bill the non-partisan feature which the Committee on Municipal Corporations substituted the partisan feature for, when the bill was before that committee for consideration. The Clark Act, which is the government for third class cities, has been in operation now for some time and upon the non-partisan basis. The cities of third class, in convention, approved of a number of amendments to the Clark Act for which I became the sponsor. Those amendments are included in the bill which is now before the House. For a long time a number of the third class cities have felt that the non-partisan feature of the act was not the best method to elect municipal officers; that the partisan feature would be the best method for small municipalities or third class cities. To that end the Committee on Municipal Corporations, after having considered this bill for some time, decided that they would accept the amendment to restore the election in third class cities upon the partisan basis. No other feature of the Clark Act is disturbed except that particular feature of the partisan and non-partisan part.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, if the gentleman will permit himself to be interrogated.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAMSEY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. I just wanted to ask the gentleman from Delaware whether the present bill as drawn, changing the non-partisan feature of the Clark Act to the partisan feature, has the endorsement of the League of Third Class Cities and the other civic leagues of Pennsylvania?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I was coming to that, to be fair with the members of the House, as far as the bill is concerned. I was about to get to that point and to say that as I have already repeated, the League of Third Class Cities have not endorsed that particular feature but several of the cities themselves are desirous that the non-partisan feature will be changed to the partisan election. I want to also be fair and to say that the amendments now presented by the gentleman from Lawrence are presented at my suggestion in order that the matter might be properly presented to the members of this House and be discussed and be acted upon here.

The question of recommitting this bill to the Committee was one which I did not approve of because the committee were of the opinion that the partisan feature should stay in the bill. The question now is whether the members of this House desire to have the committee's report approved or the bill restored to its original feature with the non-partisan basis.

I am making these statements, Mr. Speaker, in order that the members might understand my position. I don't believe, personally, there is such a thing as a non-partisan.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, when I am through.

Even though the act has been worked in that way, still there is the partisan feature, and I believe myself that the third-class cities will be better cared for under the partisan act. I hope the House will not approve of the amendment.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, this is a most important matter that is now before you. I think I can speak with considerable authority for the League of Third Class Cities. I think I can safely say that the League of Third Class Cities is absolutely for this amendment and will not support this bill unless it be restored to its original shape. When this bill was introduced it was introduced for the League of Third Class Cities and it had their unqualified approval and endorsement, but when amended, striking out the non-partisan feature of the bill as in the original bill it is now in such shape that third class cities are absolutely against it and we will have to do everything in our power to defeat the bill if this particular feature is left in it. I think the most salient feature of the Clark Act is the non-partisan feature, providing for the election of its public officers. We never had in most of the third class cities partisan elections for the control for our affairs and we don't want to go back to that now. The non-partisan feature, as provided in the Clark Act, I think is the fairest method of electing good competent public officials that possibly could be devised. We first nominate two men for each of the offices to be filled; then at the election we have a second process of elimination and choose one of the two nominees. There is no excuse under the heavens for any city electing any man to office under this non-partisan provision except the man that the city wants. And when you give to the people the opportunity to elect men of their choice that is just as good government as the people deserve or ought to have. As long as they have a free hand in electing the man of their choice, and they have that under this bill, then you cannot improve upon that method. I believe all the Chambers of Commerce and all the allied bodies of third class cities in this State have approved of this bill as originally introduced, and they are now protesting against the amendment made in committee. Now, this is a serious matter that deserves most careful consideration by every man in this House. These people certainly have the right to come before this Legislature and ask you men to give to third class cities the kind of law that they want, and the overwhelming majority, in fact almost all of the third class cities in this State, are for this amendment and they will not approve of this bill if this amendment be not inserted. Gentlemen, I ask you to support this amendment and reinstate this bill as it was originally introduced by the gentleman from Delaware County. This bill as originally introduced by him is what we wanted, what the third class cities want, and when it is restored to its original form where I think and believe it ought to be, then I believe it ought to be passed, but as it now stands it ought not to be enacted into law. I ask you gentlemen to support these amendments.

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I hope that this amendment will carry. The municipalities of this State are in financial straits far in excess of the financial straits of any other division of our government. The State finances are in good shape; the majority of the finances, generally, are in good condition, but the finances of the cities are at a low ebb. It was hoped by the insertion of a non-partisan feature in municipal elections that the municipalities might thereby be successful in obtaining the services of men who are successful in business and who are not and have not been active in party politics. That hope has been justified in certain third class cities. In others, I understand it is not. But, the suggestion, the plan is a reasonable one and has been working satisfactorily in some places and in others it is hoped it will become more satisfactory. I believe the time is coming when the condition of municipal affairs, especially so far as the financial conditions are concerned, is one of very vital importance and one that we should win the aid of the best men in the municipalities to the public service. We all know that a man who has been actively engaged in business has not generally been so active in politics. I believe also that so far as we are concerned in this matter we should be representing the concensus of opinion, and I think that the opinion in this matter has crystallized in the third class cities, and that the result of that crystallization is best shown by the convention of third class cities that was held and which was attended by the representatives of these third class cities elected for the purpose of registering the opinion of their cities upon this very question. I represent a city of about thirty thousand people which for some twenty years has been large enough to become a third class city, but believing that the old form of government was as efficient as the third class city form of government our city has not become a third class city. At the last election we voted by something over three to one to become a third class city, because under this Clark Act we desired to try the small council. I also believe that a change here would be very unwise from a political standpoint. I personally am not a devotee of the non-partisan feature of election; I doubt very much the wisdom of a non-partisan election under certain features, but so far as municipal politics is concerned I believe that it ought to be on a non-partisan basis.

I think that a change in spite of the diverse sentiment of third class cities as registered in their convention, would be a very unwise political move at this time, and I hope the amendments will pass.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say one word in reference to this bill. I think that all of the members were instructed to be in favor of the bill as it was introduced by the gentleman from Delaware, up until the time these amendments were put in. I want to read an extract from a letter from one of the solicitors of a third class city, he says "The Clark Act provided for the non-partisan election of the mayor, four members of council, and the city controller. Senator Beidleman has introduced a Senate Bill 627, which seeks to amend the Clark Act in various particulars (this bill was not approved by the solicitors.) It also wipes out the non-partisan ballot. With very few exceptions, the city solicitors are a unit for the non-partisan ballot in these local affairs. We do not hold any brief for the non-partisan ballot in state and county elections, but in the municipal government, we are in favor of that measure." I think it is true that the city solicitors of the third class cities have organized and declared that they were in favor of the non-partisan ballot, and that we should vote for these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The thirty-sixth section was read as follows:

On the question,

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Counties and Townships for the purpose of amendment.
Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?
Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I hope that you will vote against this motion. This bill has been fairly aired and heard over and over again and I think all the members understand it. It simply affects York county and Dauphin county. We had a hearing on the bill and the bill was held up for three or four weeks in committee. The commissioners of York county were here and had a full hearing on this bill and it was reported out and I think you should vote against this motion.
Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, my reason for moving to recommit this bill for the purpose of amendment is because Mr. Siggins, of Warren County, has a similar bill in this House and his bill applies to counties of one hundred thousand and all under one hundred and fifty thousand population; and I thought, inasmuch as the two bills were similar, the one calling for populations of one hundred and thirty-five thousand to one hundred and fifty thousand and that of the gentleman from Warren applying to all under one hundred and fifty thousand, it might be well to have these two bills merged. I think the bill is a good one and if it applies to two or three counties maybe it could be made to apply to more counties and be all the more valuable bill. I assure you I was sincere in making my motion for the reasons I have given you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Whereas By the act approved theeighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and thirty-five) entitled "An Act for the encouragement of agriculture and the holding of agricultural exhibitions providing State aid for certain agricultural associations and regulating the payment thereof" it is provided that in counties having one incorpjorated county agricultural association conforming to the requirements of the act such association shall be entitled to receive from the Commonwealth an annual sum not exceeding two thousand dollars equal to the amount paid by such association as premium for exhibits at its annual exhibition exclusive of premiums paid on trials of speed and in all counties where there is more than one such association the said association shall be entitled to receive from the Commonwealth a sum not exceeding in the aggregate four thousand dollars to be apportioned by the county commissioners among such associations according to the amount of premiums paid for exhibits by such associations exclusive of premiums for trials of speed and

Whereas In the case of Lycoming County Fair Association v. Lycoming County" reported in Volume 44 Pa. C. Section 2 The Auditor General is hereby directed to draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer for the purpose of reimbursing the several counties which in accordance with the provisions of said act of one thousand nine hundred fifteen have paid any monies to any such incorporated county agricultural association during the years one thousand nine hundred fifteen and one thousand nine hundred sixteen and have filed a certificate thereof with the Auditor General showing the amount paid and to whom Upon the filing with the Auditor General of any claims by any such incorporated county agricultural associations under oath showing the amount paid for premiums on exhibits during the years one thousand nine hundred fifteen and one thousand nine hundred sixteen and stating further that such association has not been reimbursed by the county as provided by said act of one thousand nine hundred fifteen the Auditor General is directed to draw his warrant on the State Treasurer in favor of such incorporated county agricultural associations for the amount so paid not exceeding in any case however the amount provided for by the said act of June eighteenth one thousand nine hundred fifteen

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 325, on final passage postponed for the present, entitled

An Act providing for the sale distribution and use for the promotion of biological science and for the discovery of new methods of treatment in medicine and surgery of unclaimed animals in the public pounds and providing penalties for neglect or refusal to comply with the provisions of this act

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 325, entitled

An Act providing for the sale distribution and use for the promotion of biological science and for the discovery of new methods of treatment in medicine and surgery of unclaimed animals in the public pounds and providing penalties for neglect or refusal to comply with the provisions of this act

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, this is the Vivisection Bill, I understand. It was brought out at the argument the last time this bill was before the Senate as if it had to do with the question of vivisection. To my mind it has nothing to do with that. Vivisection is practiced and has been practiced by our surgeons and doctors all the while. If I thought for a moment it would operate to prevent that practice I would hesitate very much to vote against the bill, but the surgeons are not so poor that they cannot get animals to operate upon in the future and at present as they have done in the past, and there is more at stake than the mere animals in question that are operated upon. It has been wisely said that the subject of cruelty to animals is a two-edged sword, operating not only upon the animals that suffer but it blunts the moral sensibilities of those who practice it. I think that the activities of the laymen in these organizations in kindness to animals has done great good in disseminating sentiments of kindness in the community and therefore I for one shall vote against this bill.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 901, entitled

An Act authorizing the several courts of common pleas to appoint volunteer police officers during the present war with Germany or in any war in which this nation may become involved providing for the organization and discipline of such police officers and enumerating their powers.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I would like the sponsor of this bill to enlighten me on it a little, please.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, is this not a similar bill to the one that was offered by Senator Schantz and defeated several weeks ago?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, it is an entirely different bill.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, does it not carry with it the same things?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, no sir, it does not.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, does it not give the police appointed by the court authority to go out and arrest a man without any information?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, the bill was prepared by the recently organized Committee of Public Safety in Pennsylvania with the idea of providing for the appointment of a citizens reserve police force during the present emergency. In Philadelphia and a good many counties in the State there are citizens who are not competent, are not able to do military duty and who are engaged in other pursuits, who have volunteered to act as a home guard to be used for defense in case of emergency which may arise during the war, and this bill allows the courts to make those regularly constituted bodies so that they may be subject to discipline and subject to call in case of emergency.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, that does not answer my question and I will repeat it? Does it not place authority in the police to go out and arrest without any information and the jail must accept them?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I do not think this bill does, but if they are appointed as policemen they probably have authority to arrest.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, without information?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, on sight.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, therefore it is a resurrection of the old coal and iron police bill.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, it is not a resurrection of that at all, a very different kind of police. It is not the thing you have in mind at all that the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, introduced earlier in the session and which we all voted against. In Philadelphia they have appointed five hundred extra police for the city. This is to provide in case of emergency and these police are called out in case of any trouble, that these citizens may have some authority.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, isn't it a fact that in the bill of the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, they would go before a magistrate, alderman or mayor? This bill provides that they go before the courts.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I do not recall the provisions of the bill introduced by the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz. This provides that the judges shall appoint them. They have to go to the county seat or to the court to be sworn in and not go before any magistrate or alderman or justice of the peace and be sworn in indiscriminately. That is a very wise difference.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION ENDORSING THE WORLD MOVEMENT FOR A FREE GOVERNMENT FOR THE PEOPLE OF IRELAND.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence resolution from the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special:

Whereas, the United States of America foremost free nation of the earth, has taken arms in the Great War to spread the spirit of democracy and freedom and to obliterate forever the agencies that now menace the common human rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and

Whereas The people of a free nation such as this cannot but feel a deep and real sympathy for the people of any other land who struggle to attain the rights now enjoyed here, and

Whereas, The bond of sympathy and understanding that has existed between the people of the United States of America and the people of Ireland, in the long and noble effort of the latter to achieve the right to govern themselves, is such as justify the people of the United States in using their influence in the cause of Irish freedom, and

Whereas, The Government of the United States is now dealing directly with high commissioners from the Government of its ally, Great Britain, with a view of finding the best methods of bringing this war to a prompt and successful termination, and

Whereas, It is the sense of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the greatest possible degree of enthusiastic co-operation between the peoples of the United States and of Great Britain is vitally essential to the attainment of the purposes of the alliance, and

Whereas, It is also the sense of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that no other single act by the Government of Great Britain could produce a greater degree of enthusiastic approval or evoke a more lasting adminration on the part of the American people, than the prompt settlement of the Irish question to the satisfaction of the Irish people, therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and he is hereby directed to make known to the high representative of Great Britain, the Right Honorable Arthur Balfour, that such is the sense of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as expressed through their representatives in General Assembly met, with the request that he make the fact known to his Government, the Government of Great Britain, and that he exert his great influence and power to impress upon the Government of Great Britain, the necessity of a prompt solution of the Irish problem.

Lift up the light of Thy countenance upon us, we pray Thee, and bring into our hearts and souls the gift of Thy spirit, that we may understand Thy guidance and Thy direction. Grant, O Father, that the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts may all be acceptable in Thy sight; that serving Thee here on earth in our day and generation, we may be permitted at last through Thy grace to enter into Thy presence and serve Thee over yonder in a world without end. Bless this body of men, we pray Thee, and keep them here in health and strength, and when Thou are through with us, do Thou gather us safely to Thyself. With our life's labor done, with our work finally finished, bring us safely over yonder, we pray Thee, and let us dwell together in a world without end. Amen.

RESOLUTION ENDORSING FREE GOVERNMENT FOR IRELAND.

Mr. WELLS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, and by unanimous consent considered and agreed to:

RESOLUTION ENDORSING THE WORLD MOVEMENT FOR A FREE GOVERNMENT FOR THE PEOPLE OF IRELAND.

Whereas The United States of American, foremost free nation of the earth, has taken arms in the Great War to spread the spirit of democracy and freedom and to obliterate forever the agencies that now menace the common human rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and

Whereas, The people of a free nation such as this cannot but feel a deep and real sympathy for the people of any other land who struggle to attain the rights now enjoyed here, and

Whereas The bond of sympathy and understanding that has existed between the people of the United States of America and the people of Ireland, in the long and noble effort of the latter to achieve the right to govern themselves, is such as justify the people of the United States in using their influence in the cause of Irish freedom, and

Whereas The Government of the United States is now dealing directly with high commissioners from the Government of its ally, Great Britain, with a view of finding the best methods of bringing this war to a prompt and successful termination, and

Whereas It is the sense of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the greatest possible degree of enthusiastic co-operation between the peoples of the United States and of Great Britain is vitally essential to the attainment of the purposes of the alliance, and

Whereas, It is also the sense of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that no other single act by the Government of Great Britain could produce a greater degree of enthusiastic approval or evoke a more lasting admiration on the part of the American people, than the prompt settlement of the Irish question to the satisfaction of the Irish people, therefor

Be it Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and he is hereby directed to make known to the high representative of Great Britain the Right Honcrable Arthur Balfour, that such is the sense of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as expressed through their representatives in General Assembly met, with the request that he make the fact known to his Government, the Government of Great Britain, and that he exert his great influence and power to impress upon the Government of Great Britain the necessity of a prompt solution of the Irish problem.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION NO. 17.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 17, File Folio 4813.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas The allies of the United States in the great war now pending are in need of money, food and men; and

Whereas Our National Government, with commendable celerity has made provision to help our allies with money and food; and

Whereas The need for help of men is reported to be very urgent and the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt, ex-President of the United States, has offered to raise a volunteer expeditionary force of approximately one hundred and thirty thousand men, ready for transportation to France, there to be trained and used as soon as competent for active service; therefore

Be it Resolved (of the Senate concur) That, if our National Government deems it wise to send an expeditionary force into France, that it is the sense of the General Assembly that the offer of the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt should be immediately accepted and that such changes in the measure pending before Congress should be promptly made as are necessary for the accomplishment of the purpose.

Resolved further, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the President of the United States, and the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. REITZEL. Mr. Speaker, this resolution here might carry with it considerable military importance and from all the information we have it is not entirely in keeping with the military policy of our Federal Government and I don't think that it would be wise to start a discussion of any kind on a resolution like this at this time; and if it be possible to evolve something definite along this line we might do so later by having it referred to the Military Committee, and, Mr. Speaker, I think it would be proper to do so.

RESOLUTION RECOMMITTED.

I therefore move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Military.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

Will the House agree to the motion?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 94.

Mr. COX asked and received the unanimous consent to offer the following motion, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Moved by Mr. Cox, seconded by Mr. Wells, that the vote by which House Bill No. 94, File Folio 2009, page 31 of the calendar of Thursday, May 1, entitled

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the sixth day of February one thousand eight hundred four entitled "An Act to provide for the erection of a house for the employment and support of the poor in the county of York" (Pamphlet Laws sixty-five) by regulating the term and election of directors of the poor was defeated on third reading and final passage, be reconsidered.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill, House Bill No. 94, the vote on which has just been reconsidered, is the bill which was defeated by this House last Tuesday morning. At that time the bill was debated at length by the sponsor and my colleague on this side of the House and myself, and I am sure that the House understands the measure very well. The question raised at that time was one of its constitutionality and I take it, Mr. Speaker, that when a bill has been defeated upon its constitutionality that that point should be upheld by the House. I believe that the House owes itself the courtesy of supporting its own opinion.

It is not my intention to go into details but I desire to call to the House's mind the one section which seemed to have been the one upon which the fight or the argument or the debate hinged: that is, whether this bill is the sort of special legislation prohibited by the Constitution or not. The sponsor of this bill stated that he had had this bill advertised and in that fact he admitted that it was special legislation. The thing for this body to decide is whether we have the power to extend the term of a county office by an act of the Legislature. My colleague stated that one section of the Constitution provided that the Legislature had the power of creating and abolishing an office and then went on to cite a case where this had been done. That the Legislature has the power of creating and abolishing an office is very true but it does not have the power of extending the time. In 1913, Mr. Speaker, in accordance with this section we created the office of County Controller in certain counties and we abolished the office of Auditor in certain counties; and in the body of that act the time of election for the Controller, as I understand it or recall it, was two years. The Constitution, while admitting and permitting the creation and abolishing did not permit the setting of the time of two years for the office of this Controller. In Northampton County, Mr. Young, who was then the controller, was defeated by Mr. Walter. He carried his case to the Supreme Court and this year that court decided that while the Legislature had the power of creating the office of Controller and abolishing the office of Auditor it did not have the power of setting the time, that that time was clearly set forth in the Constitutional Amendment of 1909 as being four years.

Now, Mr. Speaker, if this House is going to uphold the section of the Constitution which prohibits that special act as pertaining to county affairs and is going to recognize the Constitutional Amendment of 1909 which provides that no office shall be extended for more than four years or shall be less than four years, Mr. Speaker, they are going by the Constitution, and I say this: I would not believe that this body, after carefully studying over the facts and listening to the debate on last Tuesday, needs any further argument on it. This is a simple act of special legislation, particularly designed for York County, and, Mr. Speaker, I would say that the people of York County are not so ignorant that they need special legislation. I believe we can well go under the laws of Pennsylvania and we do not need to have any special legislation; and there is no demand for this act; and this act, gentlemen, is decidedly unpopular with the people of York County, irrespective of any party. It is absolutely unpopular and it is not wanted. It is uncalled for. The people of York County asked the right given them under the Constitution to elect their officers for themselves and they do not want to have a man legislated into office and put on their hands. If this gentleman who desires to be retained has real merit there is no question, if he submits his candidacy to the people, that he will receive the proper answer.

Now, Mr. Speaker, in concluding I ask the House, in all sincerity, to stand by its decision and show that it upholds its own opinion.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been amply discussed before and I don't propose to take any of the time of the House to-night to discus it any further. As I stated before, the gentleman from York on the other side has not stated a single case in defence of the point of unconstitutionality. The House does not decide the question of the constitutionality of it because any office created by the Legislature, the House has the power to abolish or has the power to regulate or to alter. The Poor Board of York County is not a constitutional office, therefore it is a legislative office and the Legislature can change it at will. We are only asking for a minority representative on this Board. This idea of playing the whole hog or none is a bad idea whether it be by a Republican or a Democratic standard. There should be a minority representative on every administrative board. That is all we are asking and I hope you gentlemen will agree with me in voting in favor of the passage of this bill.

MR. FLYNN IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1805, File Folio 4963, on top of page 31 of to-days' calendar, bills on third reading.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make an explanation, after which I think probably the gentleman from York, Mr. Lanius, may withdraw his objection. This bill was introduced in order to cover a very serious condition of affairs existing at the present time in the prothonotary's office in the City of Philadelphia. Mr. Fletcher, the deputy prothonotary for the last twenty-five or twenty-eight years, in active service, has been taken seriously ill and there is no one there to fill that position as the first deputy of the office. Under the existing act there is no authority for the prothonotary to appoint some one temporarily during his sickness. It is only to enable him to make that appointment, inasmuch as it requires immediate action here in the House of Representatives that the matter may be passed upon, and I hope the gentleman will withdraw his objections under the circumstances.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, my reason for the objection is to avoid establishing the precedent of calling up a bill out of order. I accept the gentleman's explanation, apologize to him and withdraw my objection.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, an apology is not necessary.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and the House will take the bill up on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1805, entitled

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act relating to prothonotaries and their duties, and to their deputies, and to enable said deputies to act for the said prothonotaries in case of their sickness, absence or other temporary disability," approved the twenty-sixth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven, by authorizing the appointment of an additional deputy to act in case of the disability of the principal deputy prothonotary.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1285, entitled

An Act to amend article 6 of the second section of an act approved the eleventh day of March one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one entitled "An Act to regulate the issue of policies of insurance and certificates of inspection made by steam boiler insurance companies in all cities of the first class"

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Philadelphia, explain its provisions.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, in the early part of the session a bill was introduced providing for the inspection of steam boilers in cities of the first class. That bill was known as House Bill No. 341. There was considerable objection to that bill on the part of those who own manufacturing plants because the provision of that bill called for an inspection by the state inspector, and one by the insurance company, and the closing down of the plant in order to permit the provisions of that bill to be operative would have been a hardship. The manufacturers made an objection, and I as sponsor of the bill, 341, arranged for a hearing between those who own boilers and the state authorities. The result of that conference is the measure that is now called for final action on the part of the House. everybody agreeing and satisfied, there being absolutely no objection. The purpose of this bill is a revenue raiser.

Those who are familiar with conditions in Philadelphia know that there are extensive improvements in contemplation and in operation, and in order to relieve real estate of an extra burden of taxation provision has been made to raise some money by an imposition of a tax that has been agreed to by all concerned.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, contrary to the usual custom, my friend and I will not lock horns on this bill. We have agreed to make up and shake hands, and we all have agreed that this is a good bill.

On the question recurring
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain the purposes of it.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, the bill to which this is an amendment was passed in 1913. This bill does not enlarge the scope of the Act of 1913. The Act of 1913 left it all to the property owners within the limits to which the act would apply, it left it all to them. The amendment that I have offered here allows all within the limits to which the bill applies to have the right of saying whether they want the lights. And then as to the payment,—the payment for the lights was only to be made by the real estate owners. This taxes all, because all have the benefit of the light and they should equally pay. In other words, it gives every person living within the limits equal rights, and imposes equal obligations upon the parties.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the title of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand three hundred and seventy-one) entitled "An Act amending section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and five entitled 'An Act providing for the determination by the court of common pleas of the proper county of all disputes as to the reasonableness of the amount of license fees between the municipal corporations and telegraph telephone or light or power companies' extending the provisions thereof to street passenger railway motor traction gas or water companies" which reads as follows

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain the provisions of it, and the necessity for that change.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this act simply proposes to amend the title of the act of 1913. The act of July 6th, 1913, amended the act of April 17th, 1905. It amended sections one, three and six of the act of 1905, but the title of the act of 1913 only referred to section one; and this act is to amend the title of the act of 1913 so as to correspond with the body of the act.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain the necessity for this or whether or not the passage of this bill will not deprive the municipalities of their police power over street railways and motor vehicles and in the granting of franchises for the purpose of laying tracks.

Mr. GOODMAN. Mr. Speaker, the present bill makes no change in the body of the act of 1913 whatsoever, only to make the title correspond to the body of the act. It has been doubted by some of our courts whether or not the act of 1913 would be constitutional as to sections three and six because the title of the act did not refer to those sections. The title of the act of 1913 only refers to section one of the act amended, whereas the body of the act also amends sections three and six. This act, the present bill, is to amend said title so as to cover the body of the act amending sections one, three and six. It is simply amending the title.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DEAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is a revenue bill. The banks at the present time have the privilege of paying in two ways, one by paying four mills on their capital stock, surplus and undivided profits, or they may pay ten mills on the capital stock and nothing on the surplus and undivided profits. That means that a number of banks in the state have profited by paying the ten mills, and the state is deprived of the revenue. There were two hundred and six national banks in 1915 that availed themselves of the privilege of paying the ten mills, and thirty of the state banks paid the ten mills. I think this is a just bill and a revenue measure. I have no interest in the matter except in the interest of the state. I have not presented the bill for any other purpose and I hope that it will pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PRAYER.

At the request of the Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, the Rev. F. M. C. Bedell, Rector of the Episcopal Church of Shamokin, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we commend to Thy Almighty care this Commonwealth in general and all who belong thereto, the Governor, the Senate, the House of Representatives and all who hold official positions. Those of the army and navy, those who are giving themselves to the service of the country. We commend to Thy care also our allies and grant that the war which we and they wage together, waging for righteousness and truth, may be brought to a successful conclusion. Bless and comfort those who suffer. Further all means which we may use. Bless this country, our President and all the American people. Oh Lord, into Thy hands we commend ourselves, beseeching Thee that all that is done may be for Thy glory and for the good of this country. For the sake of Jesus Christ our blessed Lord who has taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in Heaven, Hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven; Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever and ever. Amen."

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 847.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 3, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen. I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 847, entitled "An Act to amend section two thousand six hundred twenty of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith.' "

The purpose of this bill is to compel auditors of school funds to complete their work and file an itemized statement not later than September 1, 1917.

Under present law these auditors must begin their duties on the first Monday in July each year and promptly audit the accounts of the school district. It is not conceivable that two months are required for any such audit unless there is some appeal to the courts in which case the audit will in any event be incomplete until the findings of the court become known. To add an additional law for a purpose so obviously unnecessary is not economy. The present act is adequate.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto together with the bill be laid on the table.

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that the sponsor of this bill explain it.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is one which will not be a detriment to the barber or work any hardship. It is a health and sanitation bill absolutely, one which will drive out of existence any barber who may have an infectious and contagious disease. In reference to the board which is appointed, that board of examination is one which will drive out the so-called barber colleges that may come into the State and turn out a barber inside of eight weeks. It also prevents any one practicing the art of barbering as you might call it, under the age of nineteen. In reference to the questions which they may ask, they will be upon things which pertain to the art of barbering or hairdressing. They will be questioned along these lines: What are antiseptics? What are tweezers? How will tweezers be sterilized? How will a brush or a razor be sterilized? It is a very meritorious bill, gentlemen, and one for which I think you should all vote.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the explanation as given by the gentleman from Philadelphia is a very satisfactory one, and I see no reason why every man in this House should not support the measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHATTUCK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be indefinitely postponed.

Mr. REICHENBACKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BENNETT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask what provisions there are in this bill for enforcing it, who is supposed to enforce this bill?

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, the act in itself would be enough to enforce it. We have allowed for a collection of a dollar from each barber, which would give the board about fifty thousand dollars. They would appoint deputies to see to its enforcement, and that is the one reason that the bill is made the way it is. There would be no reason to have an act if we had no way to enforce it.

Mr. NEARY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BENNETT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. NEARY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether this is a good bill or a bad bill.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker, I consider it a good bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the bill falls.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 853, File Folio 2505, on page 26 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 853, entitled

An Act requiring the Commonwealth, and all counties thereof and all public institutions owned, managed and controlled by the Commonwealth or any county thereof, to purchase supplies and certain materials from State correctional institutions; providing for the administration of this act by the Prison Labor Commission and others; and making it unlawful under certain circumstances for the Auditor General of the Commonwealth or any County Controller or the Treasurer of any Public Institution to approve any bill for such materials or supplies purchased elsewhere.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the purpose back of this bill is very commendable, as the prisoners of this State should be permitted to work and manufacture goods, and a proper market should be provided for their products; but the bill as drawn appears to me as being very dangerous. In the first place, it provides that all counties thereof and all public institutions owned, manager and controlled by the Commonwealth or any county thereof shall purchase from the institutions, the correctional institutions, all supplies needed by them, and all building materials needed for and in connection with the construction and repear, etc. That to me, gentlemen, is too broad. It would require any county desiring to purchase any kind of material to purchase it from a correctional institution. The act does not state that they shall only be required to purchase such material as is manufactured or produced in a correctional institution, but provides a central purchasing agency whereby the county is required, and all public institutions are required, to buy from that central purchasing agency. It is true the act provides that the commissioners can purchase elsewhere, that the county or hospital authorities can purchase elsewhere if a lower price can be obtained, but the act provides that in case these correctional institutions can furnish a subtsantial equivalent these institutions, the county must purchase from these institutions or the prison labor commission. That carries the provisions of the act too far. There is another provision in the act. In the last section it is made the duty of the Auditor General to refuse payment of the State's moneys to these institutions unless there is attached to the request a statement setting forth that the institutions cannot furnish these supplies. I agree with the men back of this bill that it is entirely feasible and entirely proper that prison-made goods should be furnished to counties and public institutions, such as hospitals, when these goods are manufactured or produced by a prison or the prisoners therein, but when you come to enact a law which provides that all institutions and all counties shall purchase all supplies from this central purchasing agency, then, gentlemen, it is going too far. It destroys the competitive bids and destroys the executive ability of your counties and public institutions, and therefore, gentlemen, I hope that this bill will not pass as it now stands.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am sorry to hear my good friend oppose this bill. This bill has been drawn by the Pennsylvania Prison Reform League and was handed to me and introduced into this House. The only possible fear that I had concerning the bill lay in the fact that probably some organized effort might be made to defeat it by the labor interests of this Commonwealth. I was agreeably surprised to learn that all of the laboring organizations of the State are in hearty accord with this bill inasmuch as the labor of the prisoners does not come into contact with free labor on the outside and only confines its activities to State correctional institutions.

Now, in this proposition of prison labor this good old State of ours is far behind the times. We are undoubtedly one of the very last to take up this proposition. In the State of Arkansas they have a mandatory requirement that the board of commissioners for the management of the state penitentiary shall establish such industries as are provided for in this bill. In the State of Colorado they have a similar proposition; in the State of Illinois they have a Board of Prison Industry that works along the same line as this bill; in Indiana they have a Board of Managers for this purpose; in Massachusetts, in Missouri, in New Jersey, in New York, in Ohio, in Tennessee and Wisconsin.

Now, the purpose of this bill is to encourage industry on the part of those who happen to be unfortunate enough to be behind prison walls. It does not put into the market nor into any State correctional institution or any State department of government any inferior grade of goods because the prison goods have got to come up to the same standard as goods made on the outside, and if they don't the institutions do not have to take the goods made by the prison workers. All that the bill requires is that at a certain period of the year a statement shall be made by the various State institutional authorities as to what their needs will be for the coming year to the prison board in order that arrangements can be made to do the work and furnish the goods that may be required. At this time, when every effort is being made to build up and correct the manhood in our prison walls and to give these men an opportunity to labor, this, to my mind, appears to be a step in the right direction. I am sorry any opposition has been made to the bill. I hope the bill will pass because I think it will reflect credit upon the State. As we have seen, it is the right use to make of the prisoners rather than leaving them idle. All of the wardens of the various penitentiaries have for years complained that the prisoners have been looking for something to do. Another proposition will probably come before you in the next few weeks when the bill is reported out of committee which gives institutions a chance to put an army of them on the farms—if the bill goes through in time—in aid of the farmers that need help in this time of great national crisis. Whether that bill passes or not, I do not know because the bill is in committee and I only mention the fact because that shows the tendency of the times to make the best possible use of prison labor we can. It costs the State nothing and it helps rather than hurts it; and if there is anything in favor of the bill it seems to me the last proposition is the one which ought to help to pull it through the House.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me that this bill ought to have the favorable consideration of everybody in the House animated by the progressive, up-to-date principle or theory underlying this bill, and the Prison Reform Association is behind it, that there should be something done to stimulate the work of the prisoners who are incarcerated for long periods of years; that it is better for the mental, moral and physical development of the men prisoners that they have useful and profitable employment.

As I said, it has the backing of the State Prison Reform Association. Similar rules are in force and similar laws are followed in many of the great progressive States of the West, and the principle underlying the bill has the sanction and approval of men engaged in the interests of prisoners the country over. There is nothing in this bill that can be harmful, so far as I can see, and I have looked it over very carefully. It seems to me that it is a just principle that the State should purchase from these prisoners this material, provided it does not pay a higher price. There is nothing in the bill to indicate that there will be any sacrifice to any private interests; rather, it has underneath it the humane consideration of benefit to the prisoner and the benefit to the State; and I do feel that this bill ought to have the active support of every member of this House.

Mr. ERDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ERDMAN. Did I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia to say that the labor people of the Commonwealth favored this bill?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I do, yes, sir; and I want to say, if I may be pardoned in saying it at this time, that I talked with one of our own Representatives last evening, who does not happen to be here just now and who is more directly the representative of labor than probably any other member of this House, and he assured me that they were for this bill and that he would try and have a representative here to endorse this bill.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I wish to say just a word about this bill to explain a principle that has not been covered. I, for one, believe in affording the prisoners in the several correctional institutions employment. I believe that they should be given something to do. But why, may I ask, should the product of their labor be forced upon the counties and municipalities and institutions of this Commonwealth? Why not sell them in the open market, may I ask? Instead of that, this bill selects certain classes of State institutions, including the boroughs, cities, counties and all municipalities which are singled out and compelled to purchase the product of the prisons. Why not sell them directly in the open market?

I say this bill is unfair in principle; it is defectively drawn; it is in conflict with the right of contract provided by the Constitution and if the bill were passed it could never become a law.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, this bill has been very carefully drawn by a man who is one of the ablest lawyers in the country; it was drawn by one of the best lawyers in Pennsylvania; one of our very best students has been active in the preparation and in the promulgation of doctrines contained in this bill.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire the gentleman from Philadelphia to give us the name of this very able gentleman.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is William Draper Lewis, former Dean of the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether this was the gentleman who recently was a candidate for Governor and withdrew.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir. He withdrew in favor of the candidate of the Democratic party.

Mr. WALKER. This legislation is not new; and furthermore, I desire to say that this legislation has been approved of in great States famous throughout the Union for the character of their judges. I refer to a list of States having a law almost, if not entirely, similar to our own: The State of Arkansas, the State of Colorado, the State of Illinois—and, Mr. Speaker, it is a well known fact to any lawyer that the decisions of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois are accepted by the Supreme Court of the United States;—in Indiana, in Massachusetts—and it is said that the Supreme Adjudicator of Massachusetts is one of the finest courts in the entire United States on law questions and they have approved a law similar to this;—the State of Missouri, the State of New Jersey, the State of New York, the State of Ohio, and the State of Wisconsin.

It seems to me, sir, that some interest should be given to what are the advantages in this system. Under the "State use system" each man in a prison or penitentiary is required to work at the trade or occupation for which he is best fitted. In the Eastern Penitentiary, gentlemen of the House, there were a few weeks ago 1,440 men and of those 1,440 men only 60 were employed because that is all that could be employed with the work they have down there to do. Under this act it is possible for the whole 1,440 to be employed, and none of us have forgotten the old adage that our mothers used, "That the Devil finds mischief still for idle ones to do."

When a man is put into an institution to be corrected what will help him more in his correction than to teach him a trade and keep him busy and that is what this act purports to do. Furthermore, the prison is not only a manufactory but also a trade school and the industries should be sufficiently numerous to fit the peculiarities of the many classes of workmen. Again, the products of prison shops are not sold in the open market, and there is no direct competition with the products of free labor. When this bill was before the committee on Judiciary General the President of the Federation of Labor of the State of Pennsylvania came before that Committee and gave his unqualified approval to it. I would like very much if the thing could be arranged that the labor of a convict should be out in the open market, but the State of Pennsylvania cannot pay the wages that labor should have and must receive, and, therefore when the restriction as provided in this act was restrained under these institutions which are public in their nature organized labor said we are in favor of that bill. Now then another thing this act provides is that no convict ever does any work for private profit; he works for the State and inasmuch as his compensation is less than that which is paid organized labor every man in this House and every man's constituent in this House would be benefited by the passage of this bill. No longer should be great and high prices be demanded by contractors for the work done if you have in your counties this work in these public institutions when the State has been organized by the four thouasnd able bodied men who are incarcerated in these institutions and who are able to work. You can see that the constituents of your districts will be benefited because your taxes and their taxes will be lowered and God knows that is it pretty nearly time that we should help in the reduction of the taxes of the people. This bill will help that; it will not injure but rather aid organized labor, and it will help the people and save money in taxation. For these reasons alone every man in this House should be in favor of this bill.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, as much has been said as to the advisability of employing convicts, I have no dispute with the gentleman along those lines and am heartily in accord with the principle back of this bill, but the bill itself I am against. It has been stated here on the floor of this House that a county or a public institution would not be required to purchase goods from this central purchasing agency unless a substantial equivalent would be furnished by them. I desire to call your attention to that portion of the first section which contains that language, "That all public institutions owned, managed and controlled by the Commonwealth or any county thereof shall purchase from a State correctional institution of this Commonwealth all supplies needed by them and all building materials needed for or in connection with the construction or repair of any State or county institution or any materials needed for industrial training or instruction or required in the manufacture and production of crushed stone, brick, tile, culvert, pipe or other material used for or in connection with building or draining the roads of the State whenever such materials or supplies or a substantial equivalent thereof can be furnished from such correctional institution."

The question is under this act, who is to be judge as to whether a particular commodity is a substantial equivalent of what can be purchased in the open market. I submit that the prison labor commission are the judges of that in your counties and municipalities, and the public institutions have no say whatsoever as to whether the particular article is a substantial equivalent for the commodity purchased in the market or not. I desire to call your attention to that portion of the sixth section of the act which provides:

"Section 6 On and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and eighteen it shall not be lawful for the Auditor General of the Commonwealth or for the county controller or county auditors or for the treasurer of any public institution owned managed and controlled by the Commonwealth or any county thereof except as hereinafter otherwise provided to approve any bill for supplies or materials mentioned in this act and belonging to any class included in the annual list prepared by the Prison Labor Commission if purchased otherwise than from a State correctional institution during the year for which such list shall have been prepared unless there shall accompany such bill a letter from the Prison Labor Commission stating that it has been impossible for any State correctional institution of this Commonwealth to supply the particular materials or supplies desired or a substantial equivalent thereof" which puts the opportunity of saying whether this is a substantial equivalent thereof upon the Public Labor Commission.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman who is the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill what becomes of the money derived from the sale of these goods?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, there is a provision for the payment of certain wages which are proportioned to the prisoners upon the amount of work they actually do. I haven't in mind just the proportion or how it will work out that the prisoners will get the benefit of it.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, to my mind that is the mistake of this bill. If this bill would make some provision that in all cases the money that was earned was just what is necessary to maintain prisoners or would go to the State Treasury if there was any surplus, I would vote for it, but as the bill now stands, it simply puts a premium on the commission of crime. What right has any criminal or prisoner who is convicted of crime to be paid for work when he is sent there to do work? The warden of the Eastern Penitentiary said to the committee that it was absolutely unnecessary to pay them anything; that they were absolutely anxious and willing to work for nothing. If they had dependents at home and this money is used to pay these dependents, that would make it an incentive, at least more of an incentive and might not encourage them to commit crime.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I just want to add a word of protest; it is not surprising that Mr. Beyer would make the statement that he is surprised at anyone being in opposition to any of his bills. That, of course, is not surprising, but when we find a bill here for the purpose of employing criminals, in order that we might turn our institutions into machine shops and foundaries and brick molding establishments and everything of that kind for the purpose of going out in the open market in competition with labor, that kind of a proposition I am opposed to, especially when we find that we not only furnish the prisoners their employment, but we furnish them a market for their product. In a time like this when every social institution in the State is howling at the Legislature for appropriations for the purchase of grounds in order that the people may be out in the open in order to do their work in order to build up their bodies and minds in the open air, then we come in here with a bill for the purpose of housing them up in an institution and making material and goods to put on the market, to go into competition with men employed in the open market, and then say in that bill that we will not only furnish you employment after you have committed a crime against the State of Pennsylvania but we will furnish you a market for that material in opposition to every man who is working in the open market and pay you a certain price in order that you may again go back to the public after you have committed a depredation against them, and we will pay you right along and try to deprive the men who tried to support the government by their honest toil. I am bitterly opposed to turning any of our penal institutions into a machine shop, into any busy industrial center that might possibly come into competition with the open market, and at the same time furnish that institution with a market, that you cannot even deprive them of.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, if that speech made by the gentleman from Allegheny County had been made two years ago, I would say "Amen" to it, but there is not a man in this House, who has studied the labor situation, that does not know that we are short forty per cent. of the men in this State necessary to keep up the industries that are now being conducted in one manner or another for the governmnt or for our welfare. The paramount issue in this bill is the prisoner's welfare, but back of all that in times like this is the labor power, the man power, that is day by day being demanded by us in the production of goods not only for the individual but for the government itself. I say gentlemen of this House we should vote for this bill, for every man power that is released means added success to us in our various ventures in this warfare.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. FLYNN. I just want to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he agrees with the principle that compels our State institutions to purchase these supplies.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman from Elk and say that I do. I believe that our State institutions should be supported—

Mr. FLYNN. Should be compelled ——

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, compelled to purchase goods made in the State in our penal institutions.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, at the time that the labor market is gutted, what would become of this bill?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I did not get that question.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, at the time that the labor market is gutted, what would become of this bill?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I would say that if Mr. Simpson had studied the labor situation not only in Pennsylvania, but throughout the whole United States, he would find that within the next ten years nobody can guess how short we will be of labor. There is not a business in the whole world that is not now short of men power, and with the manner in which they are being killed in Europe, the question is almost an answer to itself, that we cannot find men to perform the duties which they will be called upon to do.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, if he can cite me an instance where history has not repeated itself ——

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman from Allegheny that history does repeat itself.

Mr. SIMPSON. Will it not repeat itself in this instance, and find us gutted with labor in the course of a few years, with this act still on the books?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I am not a prophet nor the son of a prophet and I cannot say whether the next twenty-five years will find us short of labor.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cox, I mean the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cox, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I have been accused of many things, but I have never been accused of being from Allegheny County. I will with pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman from Philadelphia as to whether he is in accord with the principle that municipalities should be compelled to purchase supplies from a central purchasing agent, whether the supplies were manufactured by the prisons or not?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that that cuts very much figure in this bill.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that is the point that I am against in this bill for the reason that the bill does not specify that these supplies are to be manufactured or produced by the prisoners.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I would like for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny to make one or two references to what the gentleman have said concerning this bill. Every one knows that the principle of prison labor is by no means new to Pennsylvania. The bill now before us simply enlarges the scope of the act which was passed two years ago, the Act of 1915. The Act of 1915 provides as follows: "Such labor shall be for the purpose of the manufacture and production of supplies for said institutions or for the Commonwealth, or for any county thereof, or for any public institution owned, managed and controlled by the Commonwealth, or for the preparation and manufacture of building material for the construction or repair of any State institution, or in the work of such construction or repair, or for the purpose of industrial training or instruction, or partly for one and partly for the other of such purposes, or in the manufacture and production of crushed stone, brick, tile and culvert pipe, or other material suitable for draining roads of the State, or in the preparation of road building and ballasting material." Now those words are almost identical with the bill before you, simply being re-enacted with the further provision that this act becomes mandatory. Here is a citation from a convention of organized labor held in 1897, when they went upon record before this bill went into the House: "The labor of any prisoner in any State prison, reformatory, penitentiary or jail shall be used for the manufacture of such articles as are required for use in the various State, penal or correctional and eleemosynary institutions, and where practical in the raising of such farm and garden products as are required for use in the above-named institutions." Now I take it for granted, gentlemen, that the representatives of labor got together to discuss their own organization, and that they knew a bit more from practical experience than some of us gentlemen here in the House, and when they went on record in 1897, twenty years ago, they knew whereof they were speaking. Now this bill and the bill of 1915 goes along the open road which we are now traveling, and I ask you to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I do not believe there is any doubt in the mind of any member in this House, and no member is opposed to the principle of prison labor, but I believe that that is not the purpose of this bill. I am surprised to learn that organized labor, and we have heard much of organized labor in the support of this measure, I am surprised that they should support a measure of this kind any more than they would support a measure to permit prison labor to come into the open market. Gentlemen, I submit to you that that is not the purpose of this act. The work for the prisoner, the making of a prisoner a better citizen when he comes out of jail is not the purpose of this act. The purpose of this act is to create a purchasing department by the Prison Commission for the institutions of the State of Pennsylvania, and if you will read the act you will agree with me that it says this, that at the beginning of the year the Prison Commission shall furnish to all the treasurers of the institutions and all he controllers of the counties and all the controllers of the municipalities a list of the goods that can be furnished by the institutions of Pennsylvania, and then it is impossible for any county, municipality, borough or institution to purchase any goods that that commission can furnish anywhere else but from the commission. It is all right to say "Help the prisoner to become a better man," but it is wrong to appoint and elect men to positions to be trusted with the spending of the moneys of the people of Pennsylvania, and then create a purchasing department for the entire State and put it in the hands of the Prison Commission. I do hope that the House will not pass this bill for this reason.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman that if his remarks in reference to the fact that they now furnish a market for the materials produced by this prison labor answer my argument.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman through with his interrogation. I am at a loss to comprehend just what it is.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, in the new act they furnish a market for these materials and for the purpose of answering my remarks the gentleman cited the old act. What I want to know is, does the old act answer that argument?

Mr. BEYER. Not by itself, Mr. Speaker. This goes a step further and provides a method by which this work shall be done.

Mr. SIMPSON. So then the only market that is furnished is the market that I spoke of that is furnished in the act that is now before us to-day.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, the market furnished appears in the bill very plainly, and is, "all public institutions owned, managed and controlled by the Commonwealth, or any county thereof." That is as far as it goes. I want to say further in answer to that question that some reference was made here to boroughs. Boroughs and townships are not included in this bill. The bill only goes as far as counties and county institutions.

Mr. SIMPSON. The case that you cited is a case that is not new, it is twenty years old, is it not?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that I cited any case.

Mr. SIMPSON. You read your reference.

Mr. BEYER. That to which I referred was a convention held about twenty years ago; yes, sir.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, about the best thing to be said about those good old days is that they are gone.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, that convention was held in 1897.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, one of the gentlemen who spoke here said that Mr. Maurer had been before the committee and had favored this bill. I wish to state that organized labor is not for this bill, and in the absence of Mr. Maurer, who is attending this morning a convention of the State Federation of Labor, I would ask for the postponement of this bill for the present until Mr. Maurer has been given a chance to talk on it.

The SPEAKER. The motion does not appear to be seconded.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I did not mention, when I spoke, the name of any member of the House, I mentioned the president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, but I would like the gentleman from Lackawanna to explain this: Has organized labor ever changed the utterances which it made in 1897 when it said the labor of any prisoner in any State prison, reformatory, penitentiary or jail shall be used for the manufacture of such articles as are required for use in the various State penal institutions, institutions of correction, or eleemosynary institutions wherever practicable, as are required for use in the above mentioned institutions. I presume that there has been no change in that. I presume that organized labor appreciates the curse of idleness in the prisons where no prisoner is allowed to engage in any occupation during the period of his imprisonment. And whenever organized labor has had that matter before it and has examined its purposes, it will find that there is no conflict between free labor and convict labor. One more point: The gentleman from Delaware made some reference to the Prison Labor Commission. In section two of this act there is a provision that "on or before the fifteenth day of December of each year the Prison Labor Commission of this Commonwealth shall prepare a list of the classes of supplies and materials which the various State correctional institutions will be prepared to furnish during the year commencing on the first day of January next ensuing." It does not provide for a list of everything, only those things which the State institutions are able to furnish, and in reply to an inquiry which I have heard about me, which seems to be very important to the various counties where they have county jails, this act does not prevent a county or county institution from purchasing materials or supplies from a county jail or workhouse located therein. Every county in this State that has within it a prison knows that it has to pay a certain amount of taxes to support the idle men in that prison, and get nothing out of it. And here is a chance for every county having the inmates of their jails work and thereby get back some of the taxes that they are compelled to pay. I see nothing unreasonable in the act, and if given a chance, in two years hence we will be glad to come back here and confirm its use.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to ask your indulgence for just a moment. There have been certain points raised here that I think should be answered. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baldrige, raised the point that it was unfair and unjust for the State of Pennsylvania to pay its prisoners, and that a prisoner after coming out of prison ought not to have money earned while he was there. Do you, gentlemen of the House, think it is better for a man to come out of prison, after serving a sentence, penniless, without any money at all, and in the position to continue stealing, robbing and murdering, or if while in prison was allowed to learn a trade? Do you think it is not better to have seventy-five or a hundred dollars in his pocket to start life again, or to start penniless? So far as I am concerned, I thank God for the good sense of a State that provides that a man coming out of prison shall have a bit of money to start life again under new auspices. I think it is "forward looking legislation." Mr. Simpson had a great fear in his heart that prison labor might come in contact with or opposition to organized labor. When you consider the small number of men who are engaged in work or who are allowed to be engaged in work, it is a mere drop in the bucket when compared with the tremendous army of men outside of the prisons. It practically amounts to nothing, and it seems to me that the great cause of organized labor are in either in favor of it or regard it as a practically negligible quantity. You have heard the statements made by both sides as to this.

Now, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Ramsey, with his usual earnestness, is fearful that this act will create some jobs. From the first of it to the last of it there is not a word about a new job created. There is not a new position even and not a dollar will be spent by the State of Pennsylvania that has not already been spent. As a matter of fact, all this act requires is that the State Prison Commission shall furnish to the various State correctional institutions a list of the goods which the prison laborers can furnish, and the State is not required to buy a dollar's worth unless it buys on equal terms.

I say this bill is a good bill and ought to pass.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I am glad that the gentleman from Montgomery has made the statement that there is no jobs in this bill because underneath all this that is just what there is—jobs—nothing but jobs. This is one of the most gigantic schemes for jobs that was ever presented to this House. In 1915 the Legislature created a Prison Board of patriotic gentlemen to serve without pay. Now then, we are offered this bill which provides something definite and tangible for them to do, something in the way of a job, and believe me, it will be some job to supply all of these institutions with their supplies.

Now, then, in a committee of this House, at this very moment, there lies a bill which provides a salary of $7,000 per annum for the members of this board. Let the gentleman from Montgomery explain that and he will explain what is really back of this bill.

Mr. HESS. The point has been made several times that this bill will enable the Prison Labor Association to supply institutions with their supplies. Now, it does not involve that at all. If you will read the last paragraph of Section three you will find this language: "It shall be the duty of the Prison Reform Commission promptly to reply in regard to all inquiries regarding the supplies and materials manufactured in State correctional institutions." It strictly limits what they can sell to other institutions to the material manufactured in those institutions; and I sincerely trust this bill will pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 817, File Folio 3551, passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. BENCHOFF. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I believe when this bill was under consideration there were few members in the House that knew what it meant or had read it, and I think we were more or less deceived, not intentionally, but deceived nevertheless, by reason of the fact that a certain amendment was made to the bill. Now this is a bill that makes a great change in our legal procedure. This bill provides that ——

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is discussing the merits of the bill. This is a motion to reconsider.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the gentleman from Lawrence is stating the reasons why the vote should be reconsidered, and the point is not well taken. The gentleman from Lawrence will proceed, confining himself to the motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed the House finally.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, by reason of the almost revolutionary changes in our legal procedure, as provided in this bill, and by reason of the fact that the members were without an opportunity to discuss it and understand it fully, I think the vote ought to be reconsidered and this bill given careful consideration. I believe if the members of this House realy understood this bill and knew just what it meant and what it provides, that they will not support it, and I think the vote should be reconsidered so that we can discuss it carefully and wisely.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I was rather surprised to hear a motion come at this time to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed because any one who was paying any attention to the business of the House could not help but have known what was going on.

The Chair very clearly and distinctly and in a loud tone of voice announced that this amendment would only make a typographical change in the title, and therefore we could proceed with the immediate consideration of the bill on final passage.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wobensmith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALLACE. Did I not ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to explain the purposes of the bill?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Not when it came up.

Mr. WALLACE. Did I not ask the gentleman, the sponsor of the bill, to explain what it means?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. After I had offered an amendment.

Mr. WALLACE. Did you not say that you did not care to discuss it then, as you were offering an amendment?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. The gentleman did not renew his request for an interrogation.

Mr. WALLACE. Did not the gentleman from Philadelphia offer an amendment?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. I did.

Mr. WALLACE. And isn't it the proper course that a bill that is amended should lie over for preparation for final passage?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is a question that I do not want to decide. The Chair has decided the question, and there has been no appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the members of the House will reconsider the vote by which this bill passed, because you have a bill applying to each and every citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and there should be very serious consideration of this bill. You are going to change your method of procedure on appeal, and I might say that four out of every ten cases that are not now appealed, will be brought before your Superior and Supreme Courts, and upon that appeal the records will go up. Mr. Speaker, for the information of those of the House who are not members of the bar I wish to say this: That at the present time our appellate jurisdiction does not extend to some cases where the amount involved is of very small moment or where the testimony taken would not make any material difference to the appellate court, for this reason—and it has so been decided—that the appellate courts have decided that the lower courts, having the witnesses before them, are best able to judge of the truth or the falsity of the statements made; and therefore the appellate courts will not pass upon that testimony because our courts of common pleas and quarter sessions act as chancellors and must decide the questions frequently of law and fact in the lower courts, and it is not to be passed upon by the appellate courts. Now in this act you change that entire procedure, and you bring up the record. Now it is a very serious question, gentlemen of the House, for you to pass on, and should not be passed upon lightly, but should have thorough argument and consideration. You may have nothing to do with it in all your lives, but every citizen of the Commonwealth who will have any matter, no matter of how small a moment, before any one of our lower courts, may be taken up on an appeal. You can readily see the injustice of this, because where the person is poor and an appeal is taken, that practically wipes him out. I go into this matter a little extensively because you are now voting on the reconsideration, and I want you to thoroughly understand this question before you reconsider this measure.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as my good friend and colleague from Philadelphia has seen fit, in the discussion of the question of the reconsideration of the vote on this bill, to go into the merits of the bill, I think that I should under the circumstances be permitted to say something on that subject. Now to listen to Mr. Reynolds, you would get the impression that there was something in this bill that was going to work an injustice, when as a matter of fact the real purpose and intent and operation of this act, if it becomes a law, will be to promote justice. The purpose of this bill is to act as a check on the judges of the lower courts, in many instances, when a judge has the right to pass upon the property, and in a great many cases, upon the liberty of the people without any appeal. If you have an unjust judge, and in some cases a judge who can be reached, he will decide the case, no matter how bad the testimony is against his decision, and you are wholly without remedy, because the lawyers all know that when you take an appeal in certain cases, the Supreme Court and the Superior Court will hold that they have nothing before them except the record, which does not include the testimony. All this provides is that the testimony is to be made a part of the record and taken up on the appeal for the consideration of the appellate courts.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if the gentleman from Lawrence made this motion to reconsider.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I did.

Mr. BOVEE. How were you recorded as voting?

Mr. WALLACE. I was recorded as voting aye, having voted that way for the purpose of making this motion.

Mr. BOVEE. Is that according to the rules of this House? I will leave it to the members.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the members of this House will support this motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was passed. I undoubtedly voted myself under a misapprehension. I voted aye, and may do so again after the bill has been explained, but after looking it over hurriedly I would like to have this bill discussed on the floor of the House before it is passed finally by the House. I think under the circumstances we ought to support this motion, in order not to put anything through in a high-handed manner. I do not think that is the intention of the sponsor. We ought to reconsider this bill because a great many of the members voted under a misapprehension. I could not hear what the Chair was saying at the time that it was announced that a vote would be taken on the bill. I voted aye, but I would like to have an opportunity to discuss this bill on the floor of the House. I may then vote as I voted before, and there may be other members of the same opinion, but I hope that you will support this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER announced that the "nays" appeared to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, and sixty-seven gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and eighty-six in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion to reconsider the vote was not agreed to.

RECESS.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now take a recess.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 1.35 P. M.) the House took a recess until 3.30 P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 3.30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Richard J. Baldwin) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will accept reports of committees at this time.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor, being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 363.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 3, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 363, entitled "An Act fixing the fee jurors summoned by the sheriff of any county having a population of over five hundred thousand and not more than fourteen hundred thousand for service in the courts of common pleas courts of quarter sessions and courts of oyer and terminer."

The purposes of this bill is to increase the fees of jurors in the several courts of over 500,000 and less than 1,400,000 population at $3.50 per day. The present fee in all parts of the State is $2.50 per day. Jurors in Federal Courts are paid $2.50 per day and in addition must furnish their own meals. There is no real basis for this classification. There is no reason why a juror in one county should be paid more than a juror in another county. It is a backward step from the uniformity established by the Act of 1907.

Jurors worthy of a place on a jury are there as a patriotic duty, not for the fee. No increase in fee will increase the quality of service. Men should go upon jury duty to serve the purposes of law and to help maintain the dignity of judicial regulation of life and of property.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto, be laid upon the table.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor, being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 364.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 3, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 364, entitled "An Act relative to the sale in bulk of the whole or a large part of the stock of goods wares or merchandise of any kind or of goods wares or merchandise of any kind and fixtures not in the ordinary course of business providing certain requirements therefor and imposing certain duties upon the seller and buyer and making their violation a misdemeanor."

This Bill is designed to regulate sales in bulk of merchandise and fixtures and is to supplant the present law (Act of March 28, 1905, P. L. p. 62). The Bill is carelessly drawn and omits necessary features to correct defects in existing law and is in some of its terms too drastic. It was developed at the hearing on this bill that it is not adequate to the ends desired by the credit men of the State and would in effect prevent or at least make difficult legitimate and necessary sales of this character. The enacting clause does not recite the provision for the purchaser to pay the creditors nor does it recite a method of doing so, and yet in section 3 these essentials are set forth. The title is defective. The Bill would not stand in the courts.

If the purchaser in advance pays any earnest money without first having complied with the provisions of the bill the sales is fraudulent and void. This earnest money may be only a nominal sum—usual in ordinary transfers of property—and yet it voids the sale. This is not wise legislation. It penalizes for an innocent and guiltless act.

The seller may require surety of the purchaser but the purchaser is left without means of requiring the seller to pay his bills or apply the purchase money to such payment. Defects in the present law are not met by this one and the purchaser is so hedged about as to make it practically impossible to consummate such sale. The Assembly should enact a complete and practical law governing such sales.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto, be laid upon the table.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 308.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 3, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 308, entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled 'An Act to provide for necessary medical attention to indigent persons who may be assumed to be in danger of suffering from hydrophobia or rabies after having been bitten by any animal believed to be suffering therefrom repealing all prior acts relating hereunto and providing for the payment of expenses for such treatment heretofore incurred in good faith' by providing for payment of expenses for treatment of all persons bitten by dogs by the county from the fund collected from the taxation of dogs."

This Bill amends section 1 of the Act of April 22, 1913 (P. L. p. 111), which act provides for free treatment of indigent persons who are in danger of rabies or hydrophobia. This amendment provides for free treatment of all such persons whether indigent or not. Any one so menaced by reason of a dog-bite may go to any reputable physician and have free treatment—including the Pasteur treatment which is given at only a few populous centers— and the county must pay all the expenses. The cost to be paid by the county from the funds collected from taxation on dogs and now by law used to indemnify owners of sheep for loss or damage by dogs.

Why should a county pay for the medical and surgical treatment of a well-to-do person suffering from a dog-bite and not pay for any other injury? Why make the county pay for one of a hundred types of injury and not for others? Why pay at all if the person is able to pay his own doctor's bills?

Further—by law now all indigent persons must be cared for. Why limit the fund for such humane purpose to a special tax which may be inadequate to the service needed. This would make possible the defeat of the very necessary duty of providing adequately for the treatment of the indigent sufferers.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto, be laid upon the table.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 266.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 3, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 266, entitled "An Act to amend the first section of an act entitled 'An Act to amend the first section of an act approved the fourth day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An Act to fix the salaries of the deputy register clerks and employes in the office of the register of wills of any county of this Commonwealth having a population of one million or over" so as to make it apply to counties containing a population of one million four hundred thousand or over' approved the fifth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven so as to change the salaries of the said deputy register clerks and employes of the office of register of wills of said counties."

This Bill increases the salaries of the present clerks and employes in the office of the register of wills in Philadelphia County. It also increases the number of such officers. It may be that this increased number of officers is needed. Not one iota of evidence to that effect is before me. It may be, and I incline to the belief that the present officers are not as well compensated as they should be. If they need relief it is the business of the City Councils to grant it. No city official has written or spoken for this Bill, and yet it adds a very large sum to the annual budget of the city government.

This Bill's merits should be presented to Councils who are the responsible agents by law in the matter. The State is not warranted in entering into local municipal affairs in this manner.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto, be laid upon the table.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 37.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 3, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 37, entitled "An Act to further amend sections sixteen and twenty-five of an act approved the seventh day of February one thousand nine hundred and five entitled 'An Act to create the Department of Public Printing and Binding to carry out the provisions of section twelve article three of the Constitution in relation to the public printing and binding and the supply of paper and other materials therefor' as amended."

This Bill amends sections 16 and 25 of the act of February 7, 1905 (P. L. p. 11) as amended by the Act of May 1, 1911 (P. L. p. 210). In effect it changes the size of all pink and white bills in transit from the present size, 8 x 12 inches to the smaller size of 6 x 9 inches. This Bill contains many important provisions and its purpose in the main is commendable. In conference last autumn with officers of the Legislature, Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and the then Superintendent of Printing its provisions in the main were agreed upon and it was expressly understood and definitely known that the bill should become a law prior to the time when by law a new contract for the state printing for the ensuing four years would be made. That time was February 27, 1917. The Bill only now comes to me. The contract for four years is made. This bill would if approved add at least $19,533.99 to the cost of the printing under present contract, and increase of 62½ per cent. in the printing of the white bills and 8 1-3 per cent. in the printing of the pink bills. The saving in paper is $3,075.35. The increased cost of printing is $22,609.34.

In a word this Bill by delay in passage negatives its good provisions and if now approved would add a very large sum to the cost of the State's printing. Had the bill passed in time to be applied to the present contracts it would have been approved.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto, be laid upon the table.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 932 (Senate Bill No. 115), entitled

An Act to promote uniformity in all courts of record in issuing writs and process for the beginning of civil actions.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, if there is anyone in the House who can explain the purpose of this bill I should like to have him do so.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, this bill endeavors to make uniform, to promote uniformity in all courts of record in issuing writs, as in the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the Courts of Common Pleas. It appears at the present time the only writs that have been issued by the Municipal Court of Philadelphia are writs of assumpsit and in trespass. There has always been some question whether the Municipal Court had a right to issue writs of replevin or writs of injunction. This bill makes them uniform and gives them the same right subject to the limitations of their jurisdiction.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1063, entitled

An Act to amend section five of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of Common Pleas and the judges of the orphan's Courts."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment to this bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend title line 5, by striking out the word "the" before "Common."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. As the amendment is only the striking out of a word, the bill is ready for final passage.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire what the amendment was that was just passed upon.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will again read the amendment.

The Clerk then again read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, line 5, by striking out the words "the" before "common."

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a salary raiser and covers but a few counties, and our county is included. In raises the salary of the judges from seven thousand dollars to eighty-five hundred dollars a year. I don't know of one lawyer in Westmoreland County—I do not believe there is one that would not accept that office at the present salary. It does not seems to me wise, therefore, to raise the salary of the judges unless we have money here that we do not know what to do with. For that reason this bill ought to be defeated. I think that same condition prevails in every county included under this bill.

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, the bill includes counties between two hundred and two hundred and fifty thousand. There are but two counties affected by it: one is Schuylkill and the other is Westmoreland. If the salaries will be raised, according to this bill, the judges of these two counties, now receiving seven thousand dollars, will be raised to eighty-five hundred. We all know that the judges in the other old counties in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are paid eighty-five hundred dollars a year, but, gentlemen of this Legislature, I wish to say that judges of Schuylkill County are doing exactly the same work and are devoting the same time to the duties of their offices as are the judges in Luzerne and Lackawanna Counties. There is no reason in all fairness why they should not receive the same amount of money for their services. As a test of the work of the judges in our county I want to show you that in the last appeal day before the Supreme Court in our county when the Supreme Court heard the appeals from Lackawanna, Luzerne and Schuylkill County, there was one case argued from Lackawanna, none frfom Luzerne and eighteen from Schuylkill.

Now that simply gives you an idea of the work our judges have to do. Not only that, when the Philadelphia County Courts are in session, their judges are enabled to arrange their work so they can take their usual vacation during the summer. My practice in the Schuylkill County Courts enables me to say to you that the judges of our county for the last three or four yeasr have been so overburdened with work that practically the whole summer vacation has been taken up with their referrring of cases before them. In view of the duties they have to perform, and the time they devote to it, and the amount of litigation before them, I certainly think they are entitled to some consideration and the same amount of money that the judges receive under like circumstances in the other coal counties. The purpose of this bill is simply to give them the $8,500 that is paid to other judges for doing the same work.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Graeff.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Graeff, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, do you have any lawyers in that county that would not accept that position at that figure?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I want to say that the two judges who are now presiding on the bench of Schuylkill County could go before the bar, every one of them, and in practice earn more than $8,500 a year.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to have the gentleman answer my question.

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the question repeated.

Mr. SNYDER. My question was whether there would be one lawyer in the gentlemans' county that would not accept that position at $7,000.

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I would say there are members of our bar who would be very glad to go on the bench, but you will find among the members of all bars in the State certain men who are not qualified to earn a living there or elsewhere, and certainly they would be willing to give up a bar practice for the position of judge, but that does not mean to say that these men will not earn the money that this bill proposes to pay them.

Mr. BOUTON. Mr. Speaker, I don't think that it is a question of whether any lawyer is willing to accept the position for any particular sum of money. I am a member of the bar of Westmoreland County, and I believe that if the members of the bar were polled on this question that the great majority of them would be very much in favor of this increase. I happen to know as a member of the bar, that the amount of business, the volume of business, in Westmoreland County that the judges have to do with is constantly on the increase and at times it becomes necessary for us to call in judges from the outside. We have only the three judges there, one Orphans' Court judge and two Common Pleas. Now then it is absolutely necessary that we have the very best material on the bench, and it is not a question of whether a lawyer would be willing to take a less sum or not. If you want to get good material you have got to pay for it, and they certainly ought to have as much as is paid in counties of the same size.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I want ot ask the members of this House to be fair to all in this State. We are daily passing salary raisers and at this time the State of Pennsylvania owes to the road districts of the State over $3,000,000 that has accumulated for the last seven years. Are you going to deal out the State's money to persons to whom you do not owe it, and refuse to pay what the State owes. Pay the just debts of the State. You might as well save this money and pay the States' debts.

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I just want to correct the gentleman who has just spoken. This is not a salary raiser, it is a salary adjuster.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Graeff.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Graeff, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what the difference is between a salary raiser and a salary adjuster, doesn't it have the same effect?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker, this present bill is simply to pay the judges of Schuylkill County what they should have received under the act of 1911. That is the answer to the gentleman's question.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1329 (Senate Bill No. 471), entitled

An Act to authorize the payment by corporations to their directors of compensation for service rendered by them.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill I notice permits the payment of salaries to directors of corporations. If there is any member of this body who could enlighten us as to the necessity for such legislation, I would like to hear from him.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the inquiry of the gentleman from Franklin, I would say there are certain corporations in the State of Pennsylvania which have not, either by charter nor by special grant any right to pay any compensation to their directors.

That question has even been mooted in the matter of building and loan associations. It is, however, a well-known question among certain corporations of the general second class, and in order to give the directors compensation for the work which they perform it is provided that the corporations, at such time as they may deem wise and proper, may pay a compensation to their directors to a certain extent. Instead of calling stockholders' meetings and having battles royal, this act gives them the opportunity of paying to the directors a reasonable compensation with that provision, however, which looks after the interest of the minority stockholders. I believe that it is a move in the right direction, for "the servant is worthy of his hire."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this next bill is one to which you should give close scrutiny. It is a bill of very great importance and should be defeated beyond question. It is a bill that undertakes to read into a liquor license or a special privilege something of right or of property value. As the law now stands and has always stood in this State, a liquor license is not a matter of right but a special privilege. No man has any right as a right to sell intoxicating liquors. It is only a special privilege granted to him under a law intended to regulate and restrain. Now there may come a time in the not very far distant future when that business may be at an end. When that time comes, then we are going to be face to face with the question of paying a man for something he never had or paying him under this bill for something that we to-day are giving to him. There you have the proposition of paying a man for a special privilege, which every man cannot enjoy, a privilege to make large sums of money and profits, and if we pass this bill to make that a matter of right, then we are going to have to pay for the loss of that right and the loss of that property if the time comes that that business is at an end. While this bill does not take away from the court the right of approval before a transfer of license is granted, the bill does provide that when a man dies that the license itself, as well as the other things in connection therewith, shall be liable for the debts of the decedent. Now you cannot make anything liable for the debts of a person unless you breathe into that some property right or property valuation. Now we come right back to the same question whether or not a man has a right to sell a special privilege which has enabled him perhaps to get wealthy. Under out present law he has no such right. Now gentlemen, think carefully before you vote to-day to encourage a property right or property valuation in a special privilege, for if you do the time is coming before many years that every county in this Commonwealth is going to pay very dearly for the thing that you create. This is a dangerous step. This is not a very radical measure, but a step in a radical direction, and a dangerous direction, and we had better be very careful not to interfere with this Brooks High License Law, and not breathe into this thing some right which it never had and never was intended to have.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is not meant to interfere in any manner with the Brooks High License Law. This is a bill, as I understand it, drawn up primarily for the protection of creditors and not in the interest of the liquor business. I have heard with considerable interest the cry of alarm from the gentleman from Lawrence calling attention to the fact that you were going to establish a precedent by supporting this bill which some time in the near future might come back to haunt you. I don't believe in any needless fear on his part or on mine. This bill is not for the purpose of creating anything that does not already exist as a proposition of law in our courts for this reason: in the Federal courts it has been held time and time again that liquor license is an asset.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, not at this time. I refuse to be interrogated until I get through.

The Federal courts have repeatedly held that a liquor license is an asset and in bankruptcy proceedings have even gone to the extent of exposing that license to public sale and selling the license to the highest bidder. The granting of the license, of course, is a matter of discretion with the courts of quarter sessions whether or not the purchaser is a fit person to conduct the business. I have always contended this, that once people get tired of the liquor business it will go out of business automatically and I am not here to favor any proposition, and I don't think that I ever will, which will provide that the State shall compensate any liquor dealer for going out of business. My pleas have always been on the part of the consumer rather than the man in business. When they get tired of using liquor in sufficient quantities here and there the saloon automatically shuts up. I do not believe in compensating saloon keepers if they are forced out of business by legislation. This bill is of an entirely different nature. It is for the protection of those who have given their money and goods in exchange for what they receive from the saloon keeper or the man engaged in the liquor business and they have a perfect right to be protected and it is in their behalf that I ask support for this bill and none others.

Mr. WALLACE. Just to answer the gentleman briefly, don't everybody in the House know that everything the man has now except his license is liable for the payment of his debts and if you do not breathe some right of property into that license what is this bill for? If under the law at the present time all the rest of his property is liable for his debts—that is unquestionable—then what is the use of passing this bill, and what is the necessity for this legislation if it is not to encourage a step in that direction at least. If it is not to add a little something to the special privilege, then why the necessity for this legislation?

Mr. BEYER. I might answer the interrogation of the gentleman from Lawrence. It is probably the question that he intended to put to me while I was addressing the House. Our courts—I am speaking now of our courts of quarter session—have taken under very serious consideration before granting to any one a transfer of license, time and time again, the question of whether or not the creditors have been taken care of; showing conclusively the interest in the rights of property recognized in the holding of what I may call a valuable franchise. The good will or the right to conduct a business in some given place means money and money value to the man who holds that license and to the man who may seek to have it when the other man gets tired of it and is willing to sell.

What is the use of beating around the bush and talking about a license not being property when time and time again it is recognized by the conduct of our courts in dealing with it on that basis. As I have said before, the United States courts for years established that precedent and while our courts have not gone to the point of deciding that it is property they have taken care of the creditors.

This goes a step further and the purpose of the act is the protection which those creditors are entitled to have.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I wish to call attention to the bare fact that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided and the courts of Pennsylvania and the United States Supreme Court, time and time again, that a license is not property and that it is not an asset of the estate of the decedent. In Grim's Estate, 181 Pa., page 233, the court held that a liquor license held in this State, being a personal privilege, was not even an asset of the estate of the deceased licensee and does not pass to the personal representatives and is not assignable unless expressly authorized by Act of Assembly. There is no reason why this act should pass at all unless it is for the purpose that has been stated upon the floor of this House, to recognize in a license property rights, to open up the way for a bill similar to the Urich Bill that was before this House a few days ago. I say the gentlemen of this House should vote against this bill and it should be passed by this House.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Beyer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEYER. I will, Mr. Speaker,

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if in the fifth and sixth lines of the first section of this bill, page 2, it is not provided that the license shall be transferred to the executor or administrator of the deceased?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, that is true.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he can cite a case in the State of Pennsylvania where our courts of quarter session, under the Brooks High License Law, has ever permitted a license to be transferred to the executor or administrator.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I might answer that question, yes and no. The primary purpose of the court is to take care of the family of the deceased and if there be in the family of the deceased some one applying for the license, whom in their judgment they consider a fit and proper person to conduct the business, that man is usually given the license under the present conditions as they exist.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Then, Mr. Speaker, I must ask my question in another form. I will ask the gentleman, then, if he has ever known where a licensee died and there were heirs and a widow surviving, if he has ever known in that case of the administrator being appointed as the holder of the license by our court of quarter sessions.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, usually the widow or her nominee.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Now, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has clearly stated the purpose of this bill: It is to protect the creditors of the licensee. That is no doubt the purpose of this act, but, Mr. Speaker, our courts have uniformly refused, throughout the State of Pennsylvania, to transfer a license to the administrator or an executor. This bill provides that upon the death of the licensee the executor or administrator may hold a license or the appointee of the executor or the administrator, meaning this: That under this act the courts are directed to grant the license to the executor or administrator, which they have refused to do, time and time again, ever since the Brooks Law has been in existence. And why? Because they had held that whatever estate remains it belongs to the widow and the children of that licensee; and I think you gentlemen will bear me out, our courts have been very careful, our court of quarter sessions, in the transfer of these licenses because they have said this. That no matter what the obligation may be to the wholesaler or the brewer, the widow and those children are entitled to every dollar that shall be realized from that license, and for that reason they have refused. Now I submit to you, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, that the wholesaler and the brewer generally own the licensee while he lives and this is an attempt to own him after he dies.

I think you should stop it right here. Let me remind you as it is for the protection of the widow and such children as the licensee may leave after him so they may have an opportunity to be educated as a result solely of his business. I am not here to condemn that business. I have nothing to say about it, but I do say this: You gentlemen will not, if you are careful in this matter, change the law as it now stands to put this act on the statute books which will exclude the widow and exclude the heirs and bring in the appointed wholesaler and brewer to pay off their debts out of their obligations. I ask for the defeat of this bill.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I stand up for my colleague in defense of this bill who presented it so that a few words might be said plainly. A liquor license, I suppose, is the most valuable privilege that is granted under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania. There are automobile licenses, and there are licenses for one hundred and one other objects, but there is no license, which in the main, is as valuable and considered as much as an asset as a liquor license. There is no reason in the world why we should be afraid to face this situation that confronts us at this time. I think it may be true, as a matter of theory, that a liquor license is a privilege, yet I want to say, Mr. Speaker, and I defy my friend from Jefferson to deny this, that a liquor license has time and again been construed by the United States District Court, sitting for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, to be an asset. It is true that the court said it is an asset for so much as it is worth, but in all bankruptcy assets the man who purchases it takes a chance—he makes the gamble. If a man in the saloon business or liquor business owes any money, I don't care whether he owes it to a pawnbroker, a butcher, a baker or candlestick maker, or the brewer, that is an honest debt just as much as any other kind of debt, which should be paid. If that man has a valuable asset, that asset ought to be charged with the payment of that debt. Under the present law, if this act is defeated, a license of a deceased person is transferred to the widow or the nominee, sometimes the nominee of the creditors. That is true; but the holder of the license, the transferee, the person to whom the court grants the privilege after running the gauntlet of inspection by the court as to his fitness, character and qualifications in general. He has to pay his bond in order that he may hold that license, and the man who holds that license bets it in his individual name, with a tacit understanding that he has to hold that license for the benefit of the creditors. That is the truth of the situation, and many a time the man who has this license in his personal name defeats the very ends of justice by refusing to meet the moral obligations that the law does not prescribe he shall pay. It is to meet that situation that this act is placed before this House and I don't care what business a man is in; whether he be in the liquor business or whether he shall be in the stockbroking business, any man in a business where he has a license and a privilege by the court ought to be made to pay his debts. We ought to be made to face this squarely for a license is a valuable privilege—valuable on one hand as well as the other hand, and that value whatever it may be ought to go to the proper people just the same as if the holder of that license were in the candle business or in the grain business or any other kind of business. I think it would be a step forward to pass an act of this kind.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, a few moments ago the gentleman made a remark to which I make objection. He said that the liquor license is the most important and the most valuable license in the State of Pennsylvania. I would like to ask him if a marriage license is not of more value?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would not sell my marriage license for all the liquor licenses in Pennsylvania.

REPORT FROM THE COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to present the following report of the Committee on Rules.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

The Committee on Rules, after a careful inquiry into the Legislative situation, find about thirteen hundred House Bills still in Committee, with about two hundred on file.

The Committee was not able to find out what number of the Bills in Committee would probably come on the floor in the short time given to investigate the situation. The Committee did not have time to find the probable number of Bills that would come from the Senate. The Committee thinks that at this time it cannot wisely recommend any fixed day for adjournment.

It will continue its investigation, trying to secure the probable number of Bills that will yet come from the Committees, and the probable number of Bills that will come from the Senate.

Your Committee will make a final report next Monday evening, when it hopes to be able to lay before the House a clear, concise statement of the Legislative status, accompanied with their suggestions, as to a date that the present Legislature can conclude its Legislative work in a manner creditable to the State's interests and themselves.

WM. F. RAMSEY, Chairman.
W. J. McCAIG,
JOHN M. FLYNN,
JAS. J. HEFFERNAN,
SAMUEL WHITAKER.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the report of the Committee on Rules be accepted and filed.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1365, entitled

An Act requiring public adjusters engaged in the adjustment of claims for loss or damage by fire under a policy or policies of insurance upon property in this Commonwealth to be licensed by the Insurance Commissioner defining such public adjuster providing for the payment of a fee for the issuance of a license and prescribing penalties for any violation of the act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I wish the sponsor of this bill would explain the provisions of it.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the bill in question is a department measure, or bill. It does not create any new positions, nor does it raise anybody's salary. It is simply for the purpose of regulating the issuing of licenses by the Insurance Department to those who hold themselves out as public adjusters.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, the gentleman from Allegheny has stated certain things about the bill, but the effect of the passage of this measure will be this: It effects a monopoly, or gives a monopoly, to a few men who can gain a license from the State department to adjust fire losses. It provides that the Insurance Commissioner shall say whether or not a person is competent. If he finds him competent, he shall grant this license at a fee of $25.00. Thus gentlemen, mark you, a man who has any insurance business cannot be called in to adjust a loss, he cannot give any advice to anybody relative to that loss unless he first gets this license and he pays $25.00, and then he cannot be connected with the fire insurance company, so that the effect of the measure is to put a monopoly into the hands of those who secure licenses to adjust. That is the plainest thing in the bill, and that is what this bill is for. I ask you to vote it down.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, that is not the purpose of the bill at all. Anybody can take out a license to adjust fire losses. It does not prohibit, but he must hold himself up as a public adjuster. The real purpose of the bill was to prevent people who are writing agents for insurance companies to also be fire adjusters. Now we have in our city as many know, and I know very well, people who are writing agents and fire adjusters at the same time. They abuse their privileges in the adjustment of losses. If they can have the privilege of writing the insurance after the loss has been made, their is no question but what they can handle or hold it, and at the same time to pay the insured his loss, and if there were certain adjustments made they might have the writing of insurance after that and make a more liberal adjustment. Now the Insurance Department of the State has had considerable trouble along those lines, and they have asked that this measure be introduced. It is not really my measure at all, and I am not particularly interested, but you will notice in the bill that it does not prohibit a writing agent from adjusting certain losses of his own company, but if he sets himself up to be a public adjuster and charges a prescribed fee, then the Insurance Department thinks that they should have a right, and I believe they should have the right, to say whose those men shall be. It is not for the purpose of creating a monopoly, and it will not create a monopoly.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mearkle.

The SPEAKER. Will the Gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Mearkle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, isn't it true that if this measure passes no man who is connected with an insurance company can adjust any loss outside of that connected with his own business, or his own policy, and then he must adjust that without compensation.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, that is the custom.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, isn't it true that an attorney-at-law could not act in an adjustment of insurance losses under this bill.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, not under this bill—

Mr. PALMER. Unless he first takes out a license.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, that is right, he is not a public adjuster, he is an attorney-at-law.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is designed to protect the public. Any time a man goes into the adjustment of insurance, he occupies a puasi-public position just the same as the lawyer does, and some one ought to have some supervision over the character of the men who engage in that business. For that reason this bill ought to pass. It would conduce to the public interest because it would protect the interest of the policy holder and secure him a fair adjustment, otherwise you would not know whether a man was representing the assured or the company. That is something that ought to be clear in every transaction. It is an old maxim that "no man can serve two masters," and under this bill you would know with whom you were dealing, whether or not he was merely an agent of the company or whether he was an adjuster, or whether he was your agent.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PALMER. Iisn't it true, that under this bill I would not be able to adjust any loss I might have myself, on my own property, without a license, if my own house were to burn down?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I do not understand that to be the purpose of the bill. It is where the man acts as a public adjuster and makes adjusting his business. If he is not in the business the bill would not apply to him. If he is, it ought to If he is merely a writing agent the bill would not apply. If he is a lawyer the bill would not apply.

Mr. PALMER. Does not the bill give a monopoly to the general adjustment bureau?

Mr. WALTER. I do not think so, it doesn't prevent the company from sending their own adjuster.

Mr. PALMER. Isn't this bill drawn for the purpose of putting out of business these men who know something about the adjusting of losses, the adjusting of small losses?

Mr. WALTER. I think not, and I do not believe that it would have the effect that the gentleman from Schuylkill apprehends.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. COOK. What is the main purpose of this bill?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I thought I explained that a moment ago It is simply for the purpose of regulating those who hold themselves up as public adjusters. It has to do with the men in that business, and in that line of business only. If you are not in that line of business it does not apply to you at all.

Mr. COOK. Doesn't it apply to any man?

Mr. MEARKLE. No, it applies exclusively to those in the fire adjusting business.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I happen to be somewhat acquainted with the fire insurance companies in my native county, and I am opposed to the bill for the reason that it will raise the expenses of that company. For instance, the companies with which I am associated have their own fire adjusters, but in case there is a small loss at a distance of from twenty-five to thirty miles away from where these adjusters live, possibly in the center of the county, the director at that end of the county who is well qualified to adjust that small loss, according to this bill would be exempt, and it would mean no less than from eight to ten dollars expenses to adjust a loss that does not amount to over three dollars. The intent, as I read it in this bill, is simply to monopolize the business, and raises the expenses of fire adjustments. Because of that I am against the bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the gentleman who just proceded me does not fully comprehend or understand the bill before us for consideration at this time, and in order that those not in sympathy with this piece of legislation may have further opportunity to look into it, I would move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MANGAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker announced that the "ayes" appeared to have it,

Whereupon,

A division was called for, and sixty-one gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and sixty in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

May we carry cheer in our faces and be inspirers of happiness in others and not discourage those who are struggling with hardship or trial or temptations. Keep the door of our lips that we may speak no uncharitable words. Wilt Thou heal and comfort the sick and strengthen those whose loads are too great for them to bear.
